Union issue on repairs; lawsuit notices to board

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Seventeen Madison County Board members and the board chairman were served summons papers as they entered the regular County Board meeting yesterday morning, notifying them they are being sued by Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City.

Partney filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville Monday charging the 17 board members voted Sept. 21 in favor of a new contract for repair of sheriff's department cars in "neglect of their duties."

Also served yesterday was Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City for signing the contract.

On Sept. 21, the board rejected a low bid for repairing the sheriff's department cars submitted by Boswell's Pro Tune-Up of East Alton and awarded the bid to Bo Beuckman Ford of Collinsville, which has had the sheriff's department business for a period of years.

Board Member William "Bill" Webb of Granite City, who is among those named in the suit, commented after the meeting he voted against Boswell's bid for several reasons.

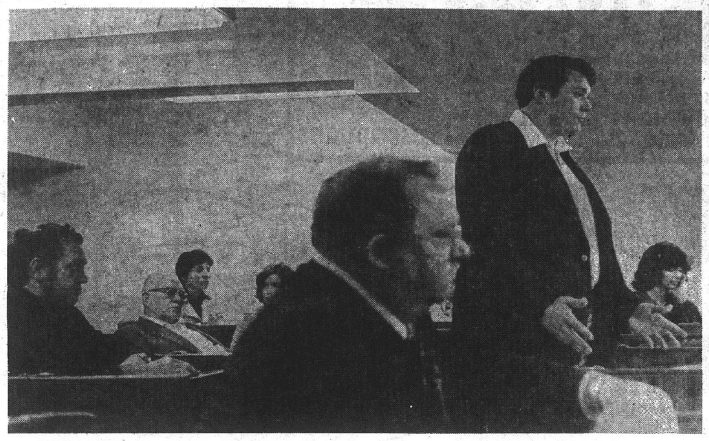

"We were told they could not do front-end work on cars, and shipped them out to someone else — and that they do not do transmission work.

"I also said I would prefer to do business with a union shop. It could save a possible problem later.

"I am a union member and I have a strong conviction we should do business with union establishments," Webb asserted.

Partney, who was

TENSE MEETING of the Madison County Board yesterday in Edwardsville as 17 board members and the board chairman are officially notified they are being sued by Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City, standing. Among those being sued are Louis Whitsell (far left), Arthur "Cooper" Moore of Madison (to the right of Whitsell) and Herbert "Junior" Milton of Granite City (foreground). Partney alleges the members neglected their duties in rejecting a low bid for repairs to sheriff's department vehicles and awarding a contract to a higher bidder. (Press-Record Photo)

Pelican's beak 'holds more than its belican'—but what's it doing in Pontoon Beach?

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

If a huge white pelican happens to land in your backyard, or on a nearby stretch of water, and the giant-size bird appears to be injured, call the local humane officer.

A pelican is a most unusual visitor to this region, but there is one around here somewhere and it is not a fugitive from the St. Louis Zoo.

Walter Crawford, head birdkeeper at the St. Louis Zoo, reported all three resident pelicans present and accounted for when he checked Wednesday morning.

The outsider had its first known brush here with civilization about 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, when it swooped across the windshield of a tractor-trailer truck from the A & H Truck Lines fleet of Indianapolis, Ind.

Conflicting stories describe the bird as having struck the truck windshield, to having made a hazardous near-miss.

Whichever the case, the driver inside the truck cab was considerably unsettled by the encounter, enough to report his experience to a guard upon reaching his destination at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant.

The incident occurred along Route 3, near the intersection of West Pontoon Road.

The driver said the bird appeared to be injured by the episode and settled down in a field alongside the highway.

The A. O. Smith security guard notified the Granite City Humane Department and Edward McKenna, an employee at the animal shelter, went out looking for the bird.

He found the super-large white pelican in a field. "I was almost on top of him when he took off," McKenna said.

"It must have weighed about 30 pounds and had a wing spread of six feet or more," he added.

A full-grown pelican can attain a wing spread of eight to 10 feet, it was learned.

McKenna didn't think the bird had been injured by its encounter with the tractor-trailer truck.

"He just spread his wings and took off. He must have gone between 20 and 30 feet straight up," he added.

About an hour or so later, a woman employee of Madison County Rabies Control was driving on Lake Drive in Pontoon Beach when she saw the giant bird on Long Lake.

She reported the pelican tried several times to leave the water and fly, but seemed to be hurt and couldn't make it.

The passing motorist was concerned that large turtles in Long Lake would further injure the pelican and suggested a humane officer or someone experienced with birds capture the visitor.

Pontoon Beach Police Chief Roswell Bennett, Jr., said the bird remained on Long Lake about three hours.

"The bird was moving up and

3-year city pact

Granite City Council members declined Tuesday night to approve proposed new working agreements for the Police and Fire Departments, but at the same time voted to accept proposals worked out between union representatives and the council's Negotiating Committee for employees of the sewage treatment plant and for secretaries employed in various city departments.

The proposals disclosed that city finance officials and union representatives have agreed generally on three-year contract agreements calling for a 6 per cent salary increase for the current 1977-78 year, another 6 per cent increase for the 1978-79 year and an 8.5 per cent salary boost for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

One exception to this schedule is in the working agreement for secretaries, one of the two agreements approved by the council Tuesday night. That pact calls for a $70 per month increase in the salaries of the 13 secretaries, with a 6 per cent raise in the second year and an 8.5 per cent raise in the third year.

Council members refused to go along with terms in the police and fire department agreements providing paid hospitalization to department members upon retirement, providing the retiree has 20 years service and attained the age of 50, except upon disability which waives the requirement.

The aldermen particularly objected to another clause providing that the paid coverage would continue after retirement for the employee and his wife until age 65.

This phase of the working agreement proposal was rejected by most council members following a caucus discussion of new contract terms three weeks ago, but were presented again Tuesday night at the request of union officials representing employee unions of both departments.

Alderman Warren Decatur, chairman of the Negotiating Committee of the council, said that he and his committee preferred to hold up all agreements until the committee completes negotiations with Street Department representatives, but that union agents had asked them to present the proposals in Tuesday night's meeting.

As a result of the council's action, agreements for the Police and Fire Departments will go back into negotiation.

Aldermen objecting to the paid insurance provision said such coverage would be far too expensive for the city, since it would mean that an employee who retires at or around 50 would continue to receive hospitalization coverage for as much as 15 years before reaching 65. In addition, the employee's wife would be covered in the same policy.

In addition to the insurance provision in the Police Department agreement, council members also protested a proposal that would provide time and one-half pay for any 15-minute period in which police officers are required to report 15 minutes early for roll call.

The agreement approved for employees at the sewage treatment plant provides the 6-

GC town hall use talks will continue

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor, and Von Dee Cruse, township assessor, took to the Town Board Tuesday night their controversy over the amount of space for the assessor's office in the new Town Hall building that is expected to be placed in use by early January.

In a debate that lasted more than half an hour, Hagnauer told City Council members, who also make up the Town Board, that Cruse "by taking this matter to the newspaper" had discredited the real intent and purpose of the new building to serve senior citizens of Granite City Township.

Cruse replied that "I didn't think this was a senior citizens building. I thought it was a township office building to serve the taxpayers."

The controversy became public several weeks ago when Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward told the council that Cruse had talked to him about office space allotted Cruse in the new building, and that Cruse had complained there is no way that he can put his 13 staff workers in the office.

Cruse carried his complaint to the council, sitting as the Town Board Tuesday night, and asserted that he had discussed the matter many times with the aldermen and with Henry Gabriel, architect for the building, "but nothing ever was

Community development allocations—$12 million

Madison County will receive $12.3 million during the next three years of the Community Development Block Grant Program, Mary Kane, director of the county's Community Development office, announced Monday.

She and an assistant returned Friday from Washington, D.C., where they consulted with officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development on guidelines for the three-year program.

She said the emphasis is on programs to aid low and moderate-income families, including programs to provide new jobs and to continue jobs which would be lost without the funding.

She urged cities, villages and townships to try to meet tomorrow's deadline for submitting their applications to her office for review.

A public hearing on the three-year applications is scheduled Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 7 p.m. in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville, at which citizens will be asked to comment on the various proposals for spending the money and to suggest projects the municipalities, townships and villages may have failed to consider during preparation of their applications.

Applications then will be returned to the governmental units for reconsideration, in light of suggestions made at the public hearing.

A date is to be set soon for a district meeting at which District Two Chairman Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, will go over all of the proposed projects and will make project recommendations, based upon district priorities. District Two is composed of the Quad-City area.

A final public hearing on the district's application then will be held Dec. 15 at Edwardsville and the final applications for all districts in the county will be submitted to the Madison County Board Dec. 21 for approval. Necessary modifications will be made before the applications are sent to the East West Gateway Coordinating Council Dec. 28, and to HUD Feb. 28, 1978.

Mary Kane said grants announced Monday include $3.8 million for the fourth year of the program (1978), $4.1 million in the fifth year and $4.3 million in

TORCH CLUB GIFT to the Tri-Cities Area United Way annual campaign is announced Wednesday at the drive's second report meeting. Left to right are Joseph C. Conway, a group leader in the Industrial Division; John Blasingame, United Way drive chairman; Edward Boyer, financial secretary of United Steelworkers of America Local 67; and Stan Banaszak, recording secretary, International Chemical Workers Local 50. The Torch Club is composed of Granite City Steel employes. (Press-Record Photo)

Torch Club helps send drive to 76%

The Labor-Management Torch Club at Granite City Steel has set a new record in pledging support for local civic, health and welfare causes for 1978. It has announced a total budget of $204,300 for the coming year, compared with the previous record budget of $183,700 for 1977.

By far the greatest portion of Torch Club funds will go to the Tri-Cities Area United Way, which will receive a total of $170,000 during 1978, an increase of $20,000 over this year.

Granite City Steel employes, through their payroll-deduction contributions to the Torch Club, also support 17 other causes in addition to the United Way.

Joining the list for the first time in 1978 will be Navy Mothers Club 850 and the Parents for Special Education group, each of which will receive $300.

Other groups, along with amounts budgeted for 1978, are: Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children ($5,000); Lewis-Clark Lung Association ($4,000);

Daylight time ends in 9 days

Daylight saving time is about to end for 1977, but not this weekend.

The return to central standard time is scheduled for 2 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 30.

Most Quad-Cityans will set their clocks back one hour when they retire Saturday night, Oct. 29.

"Fast time" provides late sunrises and long evening daylight during the six warmest months. The phrase that reminds Americans how to set their clocks and watches is "Spring forward—fall back."

Tri-Cities Area United Way pledges rose to 76.3 per cent Wednesday at the second of the four scheduled report meetings.

Receipts have reached $387,957 of the $508,250 goal, division chairmen noted at the luncheon, held at the Granite City Army Installation.

With $172,141 added by the Industrial Division during the last seven days, that mammoth division's current tally is $313,250, with more anticipated next week.

Other present figures are: Business Division, $19,534; Public Service, $17,379; Mail-Phone-Transportation, $13,843; Construction, $5,691; Professional, $5,325; Commercial I, $4,370; Commercial II, $4,990; and Madison-Venice Division, $3,575.

John Blasingame, general campaign chairman, praised drive participants and used a football analogy to urge intensified efforts, now that the effort is "in the final 25 yards (about 24 percent) from the goal."

Lock, dam veto?

A new impediment has risen in the path to construction of a new dam and 1,200-foot Mississippi River lock two miles south of the present deteriorating Alton Locks and Dam 26, it became known today.

The obstacle—President Jimmy Carter. He says he may veto legislation to build the new navigation facility and to impose a barge fuel tax as an inland waterway user fee.

Pres. Carter earlier gave a "green light" to such legislation, which has passed both the U.S. House and Senate.

But a hand-delivered letter marked "urgent" from Transportation Secretary Brock Adams to U.S. Senator Thomas F. Eagleton of St. Louis warns that the $432 million construction project and the tax sought by Mr. Carter will be vetoed — unless the Senate wins the legislative negotiations over the amount of such taxation.

Many had expected the lesser fees in the House measure to Seek city jail bids

Construction bids for the new Granite City police station and jail complex to be built on Madison Avenue adjacent to the city's No. 1 Fire station are being called for Nov. 9 under action taken by the City Council Tuesday night.

On a motion by Alderman Lloyd Bailey, chairman of the council's City Building Committee, the aldermen authorized City Clerk Robert Stevens to advertise for bids to be submitted not later than 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9. The bids are to be submitted at Stevens' office in the city hall.

If an acceptable contract results from the bidding, work on the new police-jail complex could get under way by late November, weather permitting, engineering officials said.

The design planning for the proposed structure has been completed by M. W. Architects & Engineers, St. Louis, which is

Matt. 24:3 "... what shall be the sign of thy coming and of the end of the world?"

And Jesus answered and said unto them: Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name saying I am Christ and shall deceive many. And you shall hear of wars and rumours of wars see that ye be not troubled for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences and earthquakes, in many places.

And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound the love of many shall wax cold.

Madison buys fire truck

The Madison City Council Tuesday night awarded a contract for the purchase of a fire truck cab and chassis to B. E. Hohlt Ford, of Granite City, low bidder at $20,896.

The contract for the pumper and related fire equipment to go on the truck was awarded to Towers Equipment Co. of Yorkville, Ill. on a bid of $36,359. The Towers bid was the second low bid, which was about $300 above a bid submitted by Hohlt for the Howe Company of St. Louis.

The new truck and equipment will take about three months for delivery.

The council authorized the mayor to act for the city in the renewal of a 50-year-old easement agreement with Union Electric to allow power lines to run over city-owned land near the Mississippi River.

The easement was originally signed on Sept. 6, 1927, by F. A. Garesche as president of the Madison Village Board, and Joseph Grenzer as clerk of the village.

A discussion on filing condemnation proceedings against a property owner was held by having trouble with this man for years and I think it is time we check and use every law in the books against him," Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk asid.

He instructed the health inspecfor to take pictures and instructed the legal department to take action on a piece of property in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue.

City Clerk John Belcoff said, "This man and his relatives are nothing but slum landlords. Everyone is trying his best to make our city something to be proud of, and this man is like a cancer spreading."

In other action, the council authorized Mrs. Ida D. Singleton to operate a beauty salon in her home at 1017 Washington Ave.; gave permission to the Knights of Columbus to hold its annual tootsie roll drive to aid retarded children on Nov. 4 and 5, and approved bills from Oct. 5 to Oct. 18 in the amount of $29,195.

Pacemaker baby's surgeon, native of Granite City

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Dr. George Daicoff, a native of Granite City, is the heart surgeon who has placed a permanent pacemaker in the chest of a 2½-hour-old infant, the youngest person ever to receive a pacemaker.

The infant, Lesley Nelson, was delivered by Caesarean section Oct. 11 at All Children's Hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla., and the pacemaker was installed less than 2½ hours later.

She is now nine days old and "everything's turning out," her father said yesterday.

Dr. Daicoff placed the pacemaker in Lesley's chest and has since given the infant a 90 per cent chance of living a year.

"If we can keep this baby pacing, I think the chances are excellent long-term," the surgeon said.

The infant's mother, Mrs. Sharon Nelson, 24, of Fort Wayne, Ind., was under the care of an obstetrician who found the unborn baby's heart was beating about 40 beats a minute, rather than the normal 120 beats.

He contacted Dr. Daicoff, who agreed to take the case. A Caesaren section was performed because monitors lose track of a baby's heartbeat for a period of time during normal childbirth, it was explained.

"There was no doubt the baby was in distress," Dr. Daicoff said. "We decided straightaway we would not chance temporary pacing. We decided to put in a permanent pacer."

It was learned the pacemaker is unique in itself, as its function is controlled by a dial outside of the body. Pacemakers in older persons are placed beneath the skin.

Information concerning the delicate operation was given to the Press-Record today by Mrs. John A. Petrovich, 3604 Franklin Ave., whose daughter, Mrs. Kathy (Petrovich) Dinnella, is a registered nurse who works with Dr. Daicoff in the Intensive Care Unit — Heart Section at Bayfront Medical Center in St. Petersburg.

Dr. Daicoff and Mrs. Dinnella discovered they have a mutual hometown during a casual conversation some time ago.

Mrs. Dinnella's husband, Randy, is stationed at MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa, where the former Granite City couple has lived since January.

She is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School and received her nursing degree in 1976 from St. Luke's Hospital, St. Louis.

Dr. Daicoff's mother, Mrs. Nick (Helen) Daicoff, is the sister of Mrs. Slavco (Dora) Evangeloff, 1217 Iowa St., Madison.

They are the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nick Alabach of Lincoln Place, who were widely-known here.

Mrs. Daicoff returned to her home in Sarasota, Fla., recently after spending two months here visiting Mrs. Evangeloff, a trip she makes each summer.

Dr. Daicoff, 48, was born in Granite City. The family moved to Waukegan, Wis., and then to Gary, Ind. His father died about seven years ago.

The heart surgeon received his medical degree from the University of Indiana, and completed his residency and specialist training at Albert Marritt Billins Hospital, in Chicago, a division of the University of Chicago.

Prior to establishing a practice in St. Petersburg, Dr. Daicoff was the head of the Thoracic Department at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla.

Mrs. Petrovich said her daughter has been "very interested in heart surgery and heart patient care," explaining the young woman's father has a heart ailment.

"She has been selected by the hospital for further schooling in this area," the mother said.

Vadalabene tells business women he opposes ERA

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Illinois Senate and House deliberations of the Equal Rights Amendment were a major topic as state officials and others addressed the annual legislative dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club last night at Charlie's Restaurant.

About 115 persons attended the meeting, including State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), who told the gathering, "I very firmly support equal rights for women, but I am opposed to the Equal Rights Amendment."

Vadalabene stated, "In my view, existing federal and state statutes are an adequate base for equal rights. In spite of existing legislation, women have not moved as quickly as possible into professions appropriate for their ability and their training.

"Legislation is formal. It is passive. It can not go out to work for women's rights. It waits to be used by people like yourselves," the senator said.

He said ERA would serve only "as a symbol and a lovely bouquet to the female population. I am in favor of realization of the intent of ERA and will work for the achievement of that intent," he concluded.

Vadalabene also expressed displeasure with Gov. James Thompson's vetoes of laetrile legislation, welfare abortions with state funds for the poor who have been raped, strong anti-pornography bills and regulations on hearing aid salesmen.

He predicted the veto on the anti-pornography bill will be overridden this fall, and compromises will be reached on a bill consolidating elections, implementing a "Class X" felony program and some anti-crime legislation.

He said the session will be one of the few where funding for education and other programs will not be a prime topic. Dollars will not be the main concern, but we will have to be careful due to a very tight financial picture," Vadalabene said.

State Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) received a standing ovation when he expressed his support for ERA.

"I consider ERA the number one issue in Illinois and I am very sorry it did not pass." McPike cited court decisions over the past 100 years which have, at various times, prohibited women from joining the Bar Association, from being barmaids, from serving as jurors and from being wrestlers, all of which have since been overturned.

"You have come a long way, but still are not equal. We need ERA," McPike satted.

State Representative Joe Lucco (D-Edwardsville) praised the Business and Professional Women's Club for its interest in political issues. "You people get involved. As a group, you use your united power to get what you think is best for the people."

Lucco also expressed his support for bills and attempts to make Social Security more equitable to women, to avoid embarrassing or punishing rape victims when testifying in court, and for a program to aid widows and divorced women in finding a place in the job market.

"I voted for ERA and will continue to do so," Lucco concluded.

Other speakers included Dan Stack, Republican candidate for United States representative; Circuit Judge A. A. Matoesian, who will be seeking re-election next year, and Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, representing Mayor Paul Schuler, who is in Washington, D.C.

Guests introduced included Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney; Madison Comptroller Al Hudzik; Madison Alderman Paul Ashford; Madison Police Commissioners John Bridick and Ed Dubish and Granite City Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

Also Granite City Aldermen Paul Bowler and Pat Schuman; Deputy City Clerk Charlotte Suhre; Deputy County Clerks Ruth Nicholas and Debby Topal, and others.

BPW President Lorene Sadrakula welcomed the guests and members. Ollie Derr, legislative chairman, introduced the master-of-ceremonies Jim Stack, and Edna Kohlbrecher, co-chairman of the meeting, presented certificates to club members who had completed a Practical Politics Course.

Sallie Jo Burton, BPW District 14 chairman, was a special guest, who noted the district now has 856 members.

Farm loans easier

SPRINGFIELD — A new law that clarifies the position of farming in the credit world should make credit for major farm purchases easier to get, supporters of the legislation say.

The law, signed by Gov. James Thompson, defines farming as a business for the purpose of making loans, making farmers eligible for loans they sometimes could not get before, according to Herb Klynstra, director of local government affairs for the Illinois Agricultural Association (IAA) — the parent organization of Illinois Farm Bureau, which helped write the bill.

Specifically, the law exempts farms from the Illinois usury rate, which sets a ceiling of eight per cent interest on non-business loans, Klynstra explained.

"The law clarifies the definition of farm — which was in limbo — so that many lenders now feel free to make loans of a long-term nature," Klynstra said. "It was a matter of interpretation and some companies did not want to tie up a half-million dollars for an extended period, and have a judge decide later that farming indeed is not a business.

"This law simply clarifies that definition," he added.

With farms identified as businesses, loans made to farmers can be made at the going interest rate rather than the eight per cent ceiling, which is less than most lenders could get from other borrowers.

"What this bill affects are insurance companies that want to make loans in the agricultural community," said Sen. Vince Demuzio, D-Carlinville, a sponsor of the bill.

"These sorts of lenders are really interested in getting into that type of loan market," he said. "The farming community will benefit from this insurance money," Demuzio added.

The bill was sponsored in the Illinois House by Rep. Gerald Bradley, D-Bloomington.

"Lenders go where the money is," Klynstra said, "and insurance companies have pretty well pulled out of Illinois. That left the Federal Land Bank as the main lender for the long-term land purchases.

"It has been loaning above the eight per cent rate all along because it is within federal jurisdiction and doesn't feel as though it is covered by the Illinois usury rate," he said.

The long-term loans affected by the bill extend up to 30 years.

Short term lenders, such as the Production Credit Association and rural banks, probably will not be affected by the bill, Klynstra said, because they have historically loaned to farmers as though they were businesses.

Also giving talks to the club were Ronald Pennell, head of the South High speech department, and Dr. Goni Michaeloff, North High speech department head. Both described their active theater and speaking instructional programs and praised the attitudes and abilities of local students.

President Donald Shaffner presided and the club voted to contribute to costs of a youth consultation committee that coordinates the youth work of area service organizations.

New problem confronts county nursing home; director hired

A new application of a state law being used by the Illinois Department of Public Aid is jeopardizing the future of the Madison County Nursing Home at Edwardsville, the Madison County Board was told Wednesday morning.

Members of the board's buildings and health institutions committees told the board that public aid is no longer paying for nursing home space while the resident is in a hospital.

"What they want us to do while someone goes in the hospital for a few days is either take the loss ourselves or to rent their bed to a new patient and Public Aid says it will locate them somewhere else when they are discharged from the hospital," Fred Dalton, a member of the health institutions committee, commented.

He added, "This is something we can not afford. We are $107 per patient in the hole each month now. Public Aid already pays $51 less per month than we charge individuals not on Public Aid."

The problem of whether to "simply evict" nursing home residents when they require hospitalization or whether the county can afford to pay the overhead on an empty bed during that period may be one of the first problems presented to the nursing home's new administrator for a recommendation.

Billy Rainwater of Granite City was appointed by the board as the new administrator, effective Nov. 1. Rainwater has a lengthy background in the nursing home business, and had the endorsement of the personnel, finance and health institutions committees, Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said. His salary was set at $16,000 per year, plus benefits offered other county officials.

The board also voted to create the position of full-time safety coordinator on the recommendation of its insurance consultants, Marsh & McLennan, Inc., St. Louis.

The position is to be filled in the future. The safety coordinator will develop, coordinate and implement safety program activities and would assist department supervisors in investigating accidents and pinpointing and resolving their causes.

He also would be responsible for starting safety inspection programs and for establishing standards and guidelines for purchasing, storing, maintaining and issuing safety, first aid and fire protection equipment.

The board also will appoint a secretary now dealing almost exclusively with injury claims as a claims clerk to maintain insurance records and files.

Both positions will be combined into the county's new Insurance Department which is to begin operations Dec. 1.

Although the new department will rely upon the county board's central services committee for budget and purchasing purposes, the board indicated the safety coordinator will primarily be responsible only to the board chairman and his administrative aide in matters affecting the safety of county employees.

RECEIVES PROMOTION. Roger M. Shoenhardt has been appointed chairman of the Industrial and Public Service Technology Division of the Virginia Beach Campus of Tidewater Community College, Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Schoenhardt of Granite City. His wife Doris is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Ebrecht, also of Granite City.

County Board overrides appeals recommendation

The Madison County Board Wednesday overturned the recommendation of the county zoning board of appeals and voted to deny a special use permit to Dr. Zaki and Colleen Sheikh to establish a medical office one-day per week on Route 157. Dr. Sheikh is affiliated with St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Board Member Louis Whitsell of Nameoki Township objected to the zoning board's recommendation, noting 65 persons petitioned against the special use permit, including eight adjoining residents, and 35 persons opposing the permit were at the zoning board's hearing.

He said the driveway for the business is shared with the house next door and claimed the stipulations suggested by the zoning board were unrealistic and could not be enforced.

Stipulations recommended were that the office, about six miles south of Edwardsville, be for Dr. Zaki Sheikh's sole use one hour per week only and that not more than six patients be allowed in the building per week. He was not to alter the appearance of the building or put up a sign, Whitsell said.

Whitsell contended the office already is open, a sign has been put on the mailbox and the appearance of the building already is being altered.

He said would-be patients have been knocking on doors in the neighborhood, looking for the doctor's office. He contended the neighbors are very upset over commercialization of the neighborhood, which is entirely residential.

The board voted unanimously to overturn the zoning board's recommendation for the permit.

Without discussion the board concurred in the zoning board's recommendation denying a special use permit to David Wolf and Lawrence Yust for a lounge and beer garden at Fun 'n Sun Beach Resort in Mitchell. The lounge proposal generated a great deal of opposition at an on-site public hearing Oct. 6.

Abandon plan to erect signs at South field

A report from the Citizens Committee in relation to erecting advertising signs on the fences of the sports complex at South High School was discussed by the Granite City Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night at the board office.

Members of the committee and residents living in the Lueders Estate met twice to discuss the "sign" proposal and the committee agreed to withdraw the original proposal, which was approved and later rescinded by the board members, it was announced.

Other means to raise funds to provide better lighting at the complex are under consideration at the present time by the committee.

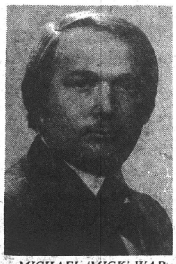

The committee has been unable to come to an agreement relative to the "welcome" sign and the board agreed to allow the sign to be placed at the admission gate on the date of the sports event, and to be removed immediately following the game, until further arrangements can be made.

In the written report, the committee listed suggestions for financing the lighting of the complex with several events to be extended over a period of time.

Some of the fund-raising programs suggested are a kick-off banquet at South cafeteria at a cost of $10 a plate to hear speakers and view a display of the project as it will appear when completed. The purpose of the dinner is to inform the public of the sports complex and enlist public support.

The committee noted the sports complex still is the project of the Granite City South Boosters Club, and the committee will continue to assist the club in events to provide additional funds for needed improvements.

The board granted leaves of absence to Mary A. Davis, a secretary, and to Mrs. Carol Dombrosky, a teacher at South High School, effective this month, and accepted resignations from Myra Grote, a matron at North High School, effective Jan. 1, and Ethel Weiss, a secretary at the Region I office, effective Dec. 31.

MICHAEL 'MICK' WARFORD of Granite City has joined Ira E. Berry, Inc., Realtors, as assistant manager of the firm's Collinsville and Edwardsville offices and sales manager of the Collinsville office. Active in real estate for six years, Warford was chosen as Most Cooperative Sales Associate of 1976 by the Granite City Board of Realtors.

Scant time saved by risky speed—troopers

A film, "Where Have All The People Gone?," previewed by local state police, asks "Where is Joe?" "Where is David?" "Where are Mary and Sue?" "Where have they gone?"

Research Institute figures indicate the average person saves 11 minutes a day by driving over the speed limit, the troopers note.

"What is it costing for those precious 11 minutes? Lives. Joe's, Dave's, Mary's and Sue's — that's where they've gone. Is it possible your neighbor died because someone tried for those extra 11 minutes?", Captain A. J. Bertagnolli, district commander of the Illinois State Police, asks.

"Drive within the speed limits and you can help save lives," the captain urged today. He released figures indicating seven people died in traffic accidents in Maryville State Police District 11 during September.

Time for annual weed control

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Adviser

Fall is the time for Madison County farmers to work on controlling weeds in alfalfa. Winter annual weeds such as chickweed and henbit are easier to control in the fall than in the spring. The herbicide to use depends upon the age and composition of the stand as well as the weeds to be controlled.

Princep can be used only on pure established alfalfa. Kerb, Furloe and Premerge can be used on newly seeded as well as established stands and also on certain clovers and trefoil. Kerb or Furloe should not be used on grass-legume mixed stands as the grass will likely be injured or killed.

Princep or Simazine can be used on pure alfalfa stands that have been established for at least 12 months. Apply after the last cutting in the fall, before the ground is permanently frozen. Do not apply to sands or loamy sands.

Princep should not be applied to fields containing alfalfa and grass mixtures because it will kill or injure the grass. Princep should control chickweed, downy brome, henbit and winter annual mustards. Allow 30 days after application before grazing or 60 days before cutting for hay.

Kerb can be applied to either newly-seeded or established alfalfa, clover, trefoil or crownvetch during the fall or early winter while the alfalfa is dormant. Kerb should not be used on mixed stands or alfalfa and grasses because it will kill or damage grass. Kerb normally gives good control of most annual grasses and broadleaf weeds. Do not harvest or graze alfalfa within 120 days of treatment.

Furloe Chloro IPC may be applied to active, semidormant, or dormant alfalfa that is established or to newly seeded alfalfa with three or more trifoliolate leaves. Application for control of chickweed or downy brome may be made from October through the winter. Do not harvest within 40 days of application. Do not apply to grass legume mixed stands.

Premerge can be used for chickweed control in pure stands of alfalfa and clover.

Eptam, Balan and Tolban are chemicals that can be used just ahead of seeding to provide weed control in new alfalfa stands.

Available at the Extension office is a guide to cost of owning and operating farm machinery. The guide on cost is one tool you can use in determining what rate to charge for custom work.

Most of the requests received at the extension office for custom rate information is from farmers doing a limited amount of custom work for a neighbor. It is not from the individual in the custom work business.

To help this individual establish a rate to charge, the guide to the cost of owning and operating farm machinery is very helpful.

The guide sheet covers tillage operations, tilling and planting, planting, applying fertilizer, spraying, harvesting grain and harvesting forages.

Quad-Cityans may request a copy of the guide from the county agricultural office.

Twenty years ago few farmers were concerned about inheritance or gift taxes since the value of most farms was less than the tax exemptions. With increased values of farmland and equipment, concern about gift and death taxes on farm property has been growing.

To help farmers better understand the inheritance and gift tax laws, we have a circular entitled "Inheritance and Gift Taxes on Illinois Farm Property."

The circular covers the three kinds of estate taxes. This includes the Illinois inheritance tax, federal estate tax and federal gift tax.

The circular also discusses some of the ways to reduce inheritance taxes.

For a free copy of the circular, Quad-Cityans may contact the county extension office.

Filcoff tops nation with 29-year quality awards

Boris Filcoff, certified life underwriter, sales representative for the John Hancock Life Insurance Company in Granite City, has received the National Quality Award for the 29th consecutive year.

Filcoff was presented the award at a luncheon meeting of the East Life Underwriters Association.

The National Quality Award honors life insurance salesmen who have maintained ninety per cent persistency on all eligible policies they have sold in the past year.

Filcoff has attained the award for a longer period of time than anyone associated with the John Hancock Company in the U.S.

Sanitary district buys new equipment

Five pieces of equipment were purchased by the Metro-East Sanitary District from the Erb Equipment Co. of Mitchell at a meeting in East St. Louis Monday.

Purchases included two heavy-duty tree cutters, one portable welder, one portable steam cleaner and one piston-type sprayer at a total cost of $8,295. Erb Equipment Co. was low bidder on furnishing the items.

The board also authorized the rental of two crawler buckets for dredging purposes at a fee of $1,800 per month from the Mitchell firm. The rental offer also was accepted on a low bid.

Board members discussed financial prospects of the district over the next six months period extending through March. The district usually adopts its new fiscal budget in January and approves the new tax levy in February, permitting the issuance of tax anticipation warrants in March.

It was noted the district's anticipated income for the next six months is approximately $405,000, while expenses usually total about $90,000 per month, including payrolls, claims and operating expenses.

2 charged in theft from car

The Madison County state's attorney's office has issued informational documents charging Gregory Walker, 21, and LaGrant V. Hackney, 21, both of St. Louis, with burglary from an auto, in connection with an auto burglary last week in Granite City.

They are charged with taking a tool box and tools from the auto of Jim Northland, 2459 State St., Wednesday, Oct. 12.

A witness saw an auto leaving the scene and called police. From a description of the auto, Venice police stopped the auto near McKinley Bridge and took Walker, Hackney and a 21-year-old St. Louis woman into custody. A tool box allegedly was in the rear seat.

Venice police also charged Walker with not having a driver's license. The woman was released pending further investigation.

Two injured

Two men were injured when the auto of John Walker, 46, East St. Louis, and the pickup truck of John Hadley, 31, Edwardsville, collided at Madison Avenue and 25th Street during the weekend.

The corner of a building at 25th Street and Madison Avenue, owned by Hook Watson, also was damaged when struck by one of the autos.

Walker was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where x-rays were taken for pain to his shoulder and neck and a bump to his forehead and he was released.

Hadley suffered minor injuries which did not require immediate hospital treatment.

Increase in enrollment at seminary

Eden Theological Seminary in its 128th academic year has noted a second consecutive increase in student enrollment.

Fifty new students, coming from 11 states, are studying in the master of divinity degree program, bringing the total enrollment in that program to 139 full-time students.

Sixteen students have started their doctor of ministry (postgraduate) degree work, bringing this program's enrollment up to 89.

There are three campus locations in which doctor of ministry degree courses are offered.

Eden Seminary offers a three-track summer session and two doctor of ministry program areas in the fields of pastoral care and theology for contemporary ministry during the academic year.

An Eden-Ohio extension program is offered at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio; and an Eden-Florida extension program is available at Lake Byrd Lodge, Avon Park, Fla.

The local seminary is at 475 E. Lockwood Ave., Webster Groves.

Nineteen denominations are currently represented among the student body at Eden Seminary, with 106 students being members of the United Church of Christ.

Eden has the highest percentage of enrolled United Church of Christ students among the seven seminaries closely affiliated with the denomination.

Out of the total enrollment of 228 people at Eden, 39 women students are involved with graduate level studies and two are participating in the post-graduate doctor of ministry program.

Seven graduate and three postgraduate level students are members of minority racial groups.

prevail in the conference committee's deliberations. Shippers have said the Senate version would virtually put them out of business due to the tax level.

Railroads and wildlife groups have tied up the lock-dam project in court, unless a specific law is enacted to order its construction.

Sec. Adams, a longtime railroad backer, is telling Sen. Eagleton, "Congress should be aware of the President's intention not to sign any bill authorizing a new Lock and Dam 26 which does not provide for waterway user charges that will recover a substantial portion of the operation, maintenance and new construction costs."

The Senate on June 22 voted barge fees estimated at $600 million a year. The House last week adopted a fee schedule said to yield $60 million annually, or one-tenth as much as the senators favored.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has unsuccessfully suggested that the Senate accept the lower tax figure and go on record with "a moral commitment" to consider new recommendations from Adams within a year.

Aside from the dollar difference, the House has called for diesel fuel taxes from barge operators, while the Senate would utilize lockage tolls on individual waterway segments.

Adams will be questioned at a Senate committee hearing on the issue tomorrow.

Never part of bet service—Beuckman

"Bo" Beuckman, Collinsville auto dealer, informed the Press-Record today he has no connection with the messenger betting service approved by the City of Venice last week. The service has not opened as yet.

His name had been used by the successful applicant, Robert Rice, former St. Clair County state's attorney.

In a letter Tuesday to Venice Mayor William M. Ebersoldt, Beuckman said, "It has come to my attention that my name was mentioned in a recent newspaper article concerning the application for a license to operate a messenger betting service in the City of Venice.

"I was unaware that the license applicant had given me as reference, and wish to clarify my position regarding the matter.

"I am not now, nor have I ever been, nor do I intend to be, involved in the operation of or sponsorship of any messenger betting service.

"I have no financial or other interest in any such operation, and can only surmise that my name was used because of my personal friendship with the attorney for the license applicant."

Beuckman sent copies of the letter to the Press-Record and to the Cahokia Downs and Fairmount Park race tracks.

$50 AUTO FIRE

Federal grand jury active again

As disclosed by the Press-Record Monday, federal grand jury activity at Springfield is resuming, with Madison County area law enforcement a primary topic.

Those believed to have testified yesterday included Madisonians and a member of the county's sheriff department.

Additional subpoenas are believed to have been issued, with more deputies expected to testify.

Some indicate federal authorities hope to complete their investigation by the end of November.

Thomas Druken, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Springfield, told the Press-Record today his staff is involved in "the ongoing probe to attempt to determine if there is corruption in Madison County which falls within the realm of the federal grand jury."

The jury yesterday issued six indictments, none related to the law enforcement investigation in this region.

A Madison woman, Gertrude McCormick, 134 Grenzer Homes, was indicted for allegedly "knowingly and unlawfully using food stamps to purchase cards for total food stamps in excess of $100."

hospitalized during the Sept. 21 meeting, contended the contract should have gone to the lowest bidder.

He sought citizen contributions to file the suit and posted $100 of his own money. He indicated he would file the suit when contributions brought the total to $500.

Additional funds are being sought, Partney said, but the lawsuit was filed Monday.

It cites a little-known Illinois statute which requires county board members found to be in willful neglect of their duties to forfeit $200 for each offense.

It also seeks an order from the court nullifying the contract with Beuckman and awarding it to Boswell.

A hearing on a request for an immediate injunction on the contract is to be set in the near future.

At yesterday's bord meeting, Board Member Louis Whitsell of Nameoki Township, one of those being sued, asked Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith if the state's attorney's office will represent the board members named in the suit.

Smith replied he had just seen the suit for the first time yesterday morning. He said his office "will study it, and, if we can, I will contact each member named

Several board members said after the meeting they plan no action until they hear from the state's attorney's office.

The summonses, which were hand-delivered to each defendant by a Madison County sheriff's deputy, require each to file an answer or appearance with the circuit clerk's office within 30 days of being served with the document.

Walter "Dick" Sparks of Chouteau Township, who also is being sued, commented he voted first for the Boswell bid, but when it was rejected by the board, he voted for the second low bidder, Beuckman Ford.

Partney's attorney, Leon Scroggins, has requested that a judge from outside Madison County be assigned the case and sources in the Madison County circuit clerk's office indicated they expect that request to be granted, since judges already have indicated they do not wish to hear the case.

Chief Circuit Judge Victor Mosele has said the case is likely to be heard by a judge from a different circuit.

Those who voted for the Beuckman Ford contract "held their ground" at yesterday's meeting. A petition bearing 813 signatures requesting that the board reconsider its action was "placed on file" without any objections by the board members.

County board rules allow reconsideration of a board action only if a member who voted in favor of the contract makes a motion for reconsideration. No such motion was made.

Quantity buying by city proposed

Robert Jackson, superintendent of the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant, submitted the following cost-cutting proposals Tuesday night:

"Pursuant to the letter of Sept. 21, 1977, we were asked to submit recommendations on how to cut costs by Oct. 18.

"Since most of our equipment is of a specialized nature, we are required in most instances to locate the manufacturer and the location of his representative in order to obtain needed parts for the repair of our equipment.

"One of the exceptions may be that of obtaining various types of bearings which can be obtained in the metropolitan area.

"Items used here that might be purchased in conjunction with the various city departments could be as follows:

1) "Janitor supplies - soaps, toilet tissue, mops, etc.

2) "We are presently using Industrial Wiping Co. for grease clean-ups and we have investigated the use of red shop towels which Chas. Todd can supply for $10 per 50 and $3 per 50 to wash. The initial investment in shop towels could be considered in a feasible investigation.

3) "A call for bids citywide for tires and tire repairs could possibly affect a saving.

4) "A call for bids citywide for raingear and boots might prove to be beneficial.

5) "A citywide purchase of antifreeze requirements could possibly be a cost-saving item.

6) "A survey of all vehicles in the city that would be needed could be combined into one city purchase, possibly in conjunction with the Police Department requirements, with results that a fleet discount could be obtained.

7) "Necessary vehicle repairs could be negotiated for a rate and parts discount.

"These could be items that might possibly be cost saving. In the case of our lime, we have only one available supplier to meet our needs.

"In the case of our ferric chloride usage, we are currently buying from Conservation Chemical in St. Louis instead of Dow Chemical, which used to supply us from Midland, Mich. We have cut our cost on a 4,000-gallon load in the neighborhood of $1,200 per load by making this change some time ago.

"Our uniforms have been supplied by contract from Chas. Todd, a local user of our treatment plant system. Our gasoline and fuel oil is purchased from the Council-approved Mobil Oil Co. supplier, Ron Branding of Edwardsville.

"As you know, our incinerator and heat thickener are presently not in use and we are anticipating a substantial saving by hauling our sludge-cake to the landfill."

Joseph Yakus dies at 93

Joseph Yakus, 93, a resident of the Anna Nursing Home, Edwardsville, formerly of the Quad-Cities, died Wednesday morning at the nursing home.

He was born in Yugoslavia and resided in this area many years prior to moving to the nursing home in 1974.

He has no known survivors and is a friend of Dr. and Mrs. Val (Ruth) Geroff of Granite City.

Post-season playoffs begin Monday

North vs. South in first sectional game?

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

It could well boil down to another North-South battle to decide which team will be the representative from downstate Illinois — and possibly the state champion — in the 1977 state high school soccer championships.

Pairings for the Granite City South and North sub-sectionals have been released, and it appears that both Granite City high schools may have a relatively easy time making it out of their own sub-sectionals and going on to the sectional tourney to be held at GCHS South.

In the first game at South's sub-sectional, Waterloo Gibault will square off against East St. Louis Senior at 4 p.m., on the first day, Monday, Oct. 24.

In game two, on Tuesday, East St. Louis Assumption will play Waterloo Senior, also at 4 p.m.

Granite City South will play the winner of the Gibault-East St. Louis clash in the third game on Wednesday, beginning at 4 p.m. Cahokia will play the winner of the Assumption-Waterloo game at 4 p.m. on Thursday.

The winners of those two games will meet for the sub-sectional championship on Friday, Oct. 28, at 4 p.m.

IN THE NORTH SUB-SECTIONAL, there are only five teams entered. The first game, at 4 p.m. on Oct. 24, will feature Belleville West, in its first year of interscholastic soccer, against Lebanon.

The second game will pit the host Steelers against the winner of the first game on Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Game number three will feature the other two Belleville schools, East (also playing soccer for the first year) and Althoff. It will be played on Wednesday at 4 p.m.

The championship will be between winners of games two and three at 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27, at 4 p.m.

There will be an admission charge of $1 at the gate for all sub-sectional and sectional games.

But the real battle SHOULD be in the first game of the South sectional, which will begin on Oct. 31.

The reason being that the winner of the GCHS North sub-sectional plays the winner of the South sub-sectional in the very first game . . . And it all happened by blind luck.

The Illinois High School Association (IHSA) draws the pairings "out of a hat" in advance of each tournament. The times of the games for the South sectional will be announced later.

In the other game, the winner from the Alton sub-sectional will play the winner from the Quincy sub-sectional.

Those sub-sectionals have two or three teams that have the potential to put together a good game, so a trip to the state finals by either North or South is far from a sure thing.

THE ALTON sub-sectional has Edwardsville, O'Fallon, Alton, Highland and Collinsville. The Kahoks just this - Monday gave South a run for the money before succumbing in the second half.

The entries in the Quincy sub-sectional are Springfield Southeast, Springfield Lanphier, Springfield Senior, Peoria Senior, Quincy Notre Dame, Jacksonville and Quincy Senior. Quincy Senior is serving as the host school.

"We're looking a little bit past some of the other teams toward the game with South," said North head coach Bob Kehoe, "I'll admit that.

"But I don't want it to become an obsession. In our first year of competition (1972), we played Jacksonville early in the season and beat them badly . . . 7-0, I think.

"We then had to play them in the post-season playoffs, and we went against them with the attitude that they were going to be a pushover.

"They weren't. They beat us 2-1."

SOUTH COACH GENE BAKER voices the same feelings. "It should be between us and North," he said. "But when you get high school guys out there with emotions running high, anything can happen."

But regardless of what the two Granite City coaches are saying now, it's still not hard to get the feeling that the Illinois High School soccer championship is going to be decided on a late October afternoon in Granite City.

South smacks Kahoks 4-2; Steelers shut out Hazelwood Central

Granite City North knew it was up against a tough opponent when it squared off opposite Hazelwood Central Monday.

GCHS South was pretty sure that its opponents, the Collinsville Kahoks, were going to be, tough . . . but they weren't sure.

Both soon found out they were facing rugged opposition, but both Granite City teams prevailed.

"It's kind of hard to tell about Collinsville," said South Coach Gene Baker before the game. "They haven't really played anybody except North . . . but they have a good soccer program in Collinsville and they gave us a run for our money last year."

As the game began, it looked as if the Kahoks were going to give the Warriors another run for their money. Bob Sova of Collinsville booted a shot past South goalie Barry Briggs after Briggs had stopped a Stein Wagner shot-on-goal.

And it wasn't a fluke. The Kahoks had come out fired up and ready to show South where the REAL soccer east of the Mississippi was played. But Collinsville soon found out exactly where that is.

SOUTH's Greg Feigl took control. At the 4:02 mark of the second quarter, he took a throw-in from Joe Theis and headed the ball into the net.

Then in the third period, Feigl took a pass from David Fernandez and whacked it home. Gary Phelps and Mark Goldschmidt got the final Warrior goals to make it 4-1.

Collinsville scored its final tally in the fourth period when Brian Hess scored on a penalty shot.

NORTH S GAME with Hazelwood Central, Cliff "Butch" Stefanoff snared a pass from Jeff Demott midway through the last period and booted home the only goal of the game as the Steelers won thriller, 1-0.

Despite being outshot by Hazelwood 19-8, the Steelers made the best of their shots and got fine goaltending from Mike Hill. He made 11 saves, compared to four for Hazelwood goalie Dale Jeffery

North's record is now 17-1-1, while South s defending state champions stand at 15-1-4.

The next game for South is this Saturday when the soccer Warriors host St. Paul of Highlarid in an 11 a.m. game. North is in action at Quincy Saturday afternoon at 1.

In North's golf sectional . . .

West Frankfort takes team title; Steelers finish in eighth place

It all began back in August on a hot summer day. It all ended Tuesday afternoon on a cool, windy day

What IT was was the golf season for Granite City North and one member of GCHS South's links squad.

The reason for the ending? The IHSA golf sectional tournament which was held at the Arlington golf course just outside Granite City and hosted this year by North.

The top three teams from the sectional and the top three individuals advanced to the state tournament which will be held tomorrow (Oct. 21) and Saturday in Springfield.

Needless to say, North wasn't among the top three. Neither was the individual member from South's team, Herman (Dutch) Schroeder.

North fired a tean total of 340, well back of the three top team scores. West Frankfort won the team title with 316, Belleville East was second with 318 and Edwardsville was third with 322.

South's Schroeder shot an 87 which failed to place him among the top three individuals.

Those honors were taken by three members of team delegations that did not make the top three. They were Scott Hammel of Decatur MacArthur (who was the meet's medalist with a 73), Jim McPherson of Belleville Althoff with a 76 and Mike Downey of Decatur Eisenhower, third individual qualifier with a 77.

The top seven individual golfers were awarded medals. Besides Hammel's meet-low of 73, others were Darrel Smith of West Frankfort 75, Tim Martin of West Frankfort 76, Joe Malench of Edwardsville 76, McPherson of Althoff 76, Rob Curtis of Belleville East 76 and Downey of Decatur Eisenhower 77.

"We just picked the wrong day to shoot poorly, said North Coach Russ Chappell. "Our score was 20 shots behind our district score.

"But I'm not making any excuses. Everybody had to play in those high winds out there toda y."

"It was our own home course, and we just should have done better.'

"I'm glad tha we finished ahead of Alton," Chappell added. And we beat Belleville East just over a week ago, so I know we could have gone to state

'If we could have just shot our average (320) for this course, we would have gone to state."

Local grid teams in action on area fields this weekend

All three of the Granite City area prep football teams will be in action this weekend, two teams playing on Friday night and one Saturday

Granite City South's Warrior gridders will be on the road tomorrow night when they tangle with the Alton Red Birds

Coach Stan Wojcik s Warriors are stinging from a 21-6 loss at Collinsville as they go into their second game in a row on the road.

Alton was a 13-7 loser to Belleville East last week. The Red Birds are 1-5, one notch lower than South's 2-4 mark. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Trojans of Nick Jakich will also be on the road tomorrow night, they travel to Calhoun-Hardin for a 7:30 game.

The Trojans were beaten at home last week by East St. Louis Assumption, 6-0.

This Saturday night, North's Steelers travel to Belleville Althoff for a game with the Crusaders. Kickoff time is set for 8 o'clock.

Last week, the Steelers of Tom Wyrostek were beaten at St Louis DeSmet, 42-7.

Althoff meanwhile, was a 23-0 loser to another St. Louis school, Chaminade, last week.

Next week the game of the year" will be played at Granite South with the Warriors taking on North in the city's annual clash for gridiron supremacy.

Last year South pulled out a 14-10 win over the favored Steelers.

Girls' tennis district play Friday at Belleville West

With the end of October rapidly approaching, one's thoughts turn to the opening of basketball and wrestling, the football playoffs. . . ANYTHING but tennis!

But that's exactly what's happening tomorrow in Belleville. The Belleville West district girls' tennis meet is scheduled.

Both Granite City North and South will send representatives. In IHSA district play, each school is allowed to send two singles players and two doubles teams.

FOR JUDY WARD'S NORTH TEAM, however, there will be only two doubles teams representing the school. She isn't sending any singles players because she doesn't feel that any would be able to compete and that North's best shot would be in the doubles competition.

The number one Steelerettes doubles team will be that of Marge Verschuyl and Cindy Campbell. During the regular season, both saw most of their action on the singles court, but the coach feels they are the best overall and have the potential to represent the team well.

The other North doubles squad will be made up by Shelly Pohoman and Beth Goff, number one doubles team for the Steelerettes all season.

FOR SOUTH, the outlook is bright for the district. Coach Pam Yates is sending her number one and two singles players, Christy Bauer and Laura Gabriel, to Belleville tomorrow and the doubles teams of Therese Hayes-Linda Vaught and Susan Bell-Mary Ellen Hutchings.

Miss Bauer is the number four seed in the singles competition. The number one seed is Sue Pulley from Belleville East. Dorothy Hogan of Belleville Althoff is the second seed and Carla Hawkins from Cahokia is the third seed.

Pam Yates feels that Belleville's schools will be the teams to beat tomorrow.

"Both Althoff and West beat us this year, and East's not bad, either," she said. "But I feel that we have a lot of depth and strength.

"I think we have so much strength that my number three doubles team could play evenly with the number one team."

Both North and South will soon find out just how strong they are.

Cougar netters lose to Salukis

The SIUE women's tennis team managed to win only two of 15 matches played at siu at Carbondale during the weekend. The triangular meet was halted by rain as the doubles competition was under way.

Coach Bob Gamble's SIUE squad was beaten by the University of Missouri-Columbia 6-0 and Carbondale turned back the Cougars, 7-2.

Mizzou's No. 1 player, Patsy Donelson, beat SIUE's Patty Ziegenfuss, two-and-two. Missouri's Nancy Caldwell knocked off SIUE's Jeanne Depper in 40 minutes in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2.

With the rain forcing play inside, the Cougars' Ziegenfuss defeated Carbondale's Jeannie Jones, 6-2, 6-2.

Gamble's No. 1 doubles duo, Pat Ziegenfuss and Jeanne Depper, remained undefeated by zipping past Carbondale's top team of Joanne Loeser and Maureen Kelly, one-and-two.

The Cougars' doubles duo of Debby Wild and Julie Bugnitz lost to Donna Kurtz and Janet Moyles, 6-2, 6-3. It was the first meet playing together for Misses Wild and Bugnitz.

Cougars play at Akron University

Fresh from a 2-1 weekend victory at Quincy College, Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE soccer Cougars will be on the road again this Saturday, playing Akron University in Ohio.

The Zips have yet to beat the Cougars but are expected to be tough. The series scores: 3-1 in 1969, 3-2 and 3-2 in '71, 2-0 in '73, 5-0 in '74, 5-4 in '75 and 5-2 in '76.

Sure was a nice day for golf

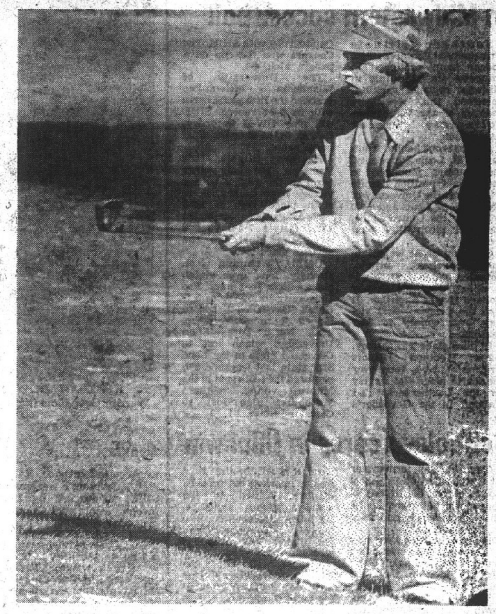

This was it. Put up or shut up time for 64 prep golfers from downstate Illinois. It was this past Tuesday . . . it was cool and windy . . . It was the day of the Granite City North Sectional golf tournament at Arlington Golf Course near Granite City.

But it was also a day of meeting new friends, having a good time and time for the coaches to play a round of golf themselves.

There was tournament marshals on duty during the day to make decisions on crucial calls. There were spotters on every hole to show the golfers just where their shots had landed . . . these were things that aren't seen at golf meets during the regular season.

But this was a special day.

Rascals in action on South field

Two Granite City Rascals boys football teams remain undefeated after their latest games and both will be playing at home this weekend.

The junior Pee Wee North team, coached by Leo Kalips, is scheduled to play Dupo here (South High School) at 2:15 p.m. Sunday.

In their last game, these gridders handed the Belleville Knights their first loss, 6-0, at Belleville to take over first place in the North Division.

The midget squad leads the North Division with a 6-0 record and will play in the second game Sunday afternoon, at 4. It will tangle with Fairview Heights.

The midgets defeated the Belleville Devils No. 1 team 14-0 here early this week for its fourth shutout win in six games. The first-string defense has allowed only six points in six games. The team is coached by Bob Patrick.

The Pee Wee North team, with a 5-1 record, defeated Scott Air Force Base 20-0 this week and will have this weekend off.

The Junior Pee Wee South team lost 22-8 on the road this week to the Belleville Devils and will travel to Red Bud for a 2:15 p.m. game Sunday. The team is coached by Mick Suess and has a 2-4 record.

Top teams in tennis tourney

The second annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville-Oak Hill Racquet Club collegiate invitational tennis tournament has been set for Oct. 28 and 29 at Belleville.

Kent DeMars, SIUE varsity tennis coach and tournament director, said eight of the top United States collegiate tennis teams have been invited and have accepted to play in the meet. Last year's leadoff meet drew an entry field of four and was won by the host Cougars.

A new format will be used in this meet, said DeMars: "It'll be flight play. In other words, each team's No. 1 singles player will be matched only against other schools' number ones and on down the list."

Scoring will be:

One point for a first round victory, two points for a semifinal match and three points for winning a final match.

The eight teams entered are: the host Cougars, the University of Wisconsin Badgers, The Tigers of the University of Missouri, Columbia, the Salukis of SIU-Carbondale, the Red Birds of Illinois State University, the Illini of the University of Illinois, the Buffs of Colorado University and the Boilermakers of Purdue university.

Said DeMars, "There's a lot of outstanding talent playing for those schools, starting with our own Juan Farrow, Arjun Fernando, Brian Millar, Kent Smith, Granite City's Bill Rusick, Alan Millar, Scott Shaley and Randy Houston.

"Wisconsin has the former Illinois high school state champion, John Powell. Mizzou's Brian Mitchell is the No. 1 under-21 Davis Cup player and paced the Tigers to their second-place finish in the Big Eight Conference race last spring."

Farrow won the NCAA Division Two singles crown in California this June, and he and his doubles partner, Fernando, finished second at San Diego State U.

Farrow's and Fernando's victories in division two competition qualified them to advance to Athens, Ga., to play in the NCAA large schools' meet.

Cougars are ranked second in Midwestern soccer poll

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's soccer team continued to improve its standing in Midwest regional rankings released this week by coaches of the U.S. Intercollegiate Soccer Association.

Again second behind front-runner St. Louis University, the Cougars managed to retain their position despite a 1-0 loss to the University of Missouri - St. Louis and a 2-0 defeat by the United States national team this past week.

Carrying great weight in the coaches' minds, however, had to be SIUE's 2-1 victory over the Quincy College Hawks Saturday. It was the Cougars' first victory over Quincy in four seasons.

In third place was Quincy, 9-2-0. Western Illinois University, 5-1-1, took over the fourth place slot largely on the Leathernecks' 1-1 standoff in the Governor's Cup tourney with SIUE. The Cougars won the cup on a penalty kick, 4-3.

The University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee grabbed the fifth place berth with its 9-4-0 record. SIUE will play UW-M Saturday, Oct. 29, in the Cougars' final home game.

Eastern Illinois U.'s Panthers, the only other team in the region with a victory over Quincy, is in sixth place with a 5-3-0 record. Southern Methodist University's 7-4-0 record gave the Mustangs the seventh place slot.

UMSL, coming on strongly, took over eighth place with its 7-3-1 mark. The University of Wisconsin - Green Bay's 7-1-2 record landed it in ninth place, while North Texas State University, which lost to Cleveland State in the Lone Star state last weekend 2-0, captured the tenth spot in the Midwest voting. Southern Methodist also lost to Cleveland State, 2-1.

Schooley scores in Illini win

Tom Schooley, former star at Granite City High School South, scored his first Illini touchdown Saturday as the Illini defeated Purdue 29-22 in West Lafayette.

Schooley's touchdown was a six-yard pass reception from quarterback Mike McCray late in the first quarter.

While is is the first touchdown of his career with the Illini, it is not the first time he has sparked his school's offense. Added to his previous games' statistics, his latest attainments allow Schooley to continue to lead the Illini in pass receptions with 12 for 200 yards.

Illinois will host the Indiana Hoosiers this Saturday at Memorial Stadium. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Red Birds hike ticket prices

The St. Louis Baseball Cardinals on Tuesday announced increases in prices for box seats and some loge reserved seats for the 1978 baseball season at Busch Memorial Stadium.

Field, loge and terrace boxes will be increased 50 cents from $5.50 to $6 and a similar increase from $4 to $4.50 will be invoked for loge reserved seats for sections 232 to 268 inclusive, roughly the area from first base to third base.

All other reserved seats in the loge area, as well as terrace reserved seats, will remain at $4. There also is no increase in general admission tickets ($2.50) and bleachers ($2).

HEADING DOWNFIELD during Monday's South-Collinsville soccer game is Warrior Greg Fiegl (right). He scored a pair of goals as South beat the Kahoks, 4-2.

She scored 36.25 points by taking a first in floor exercises, a first on the uneven bars, a second in the vaulting, fourth on the beam and first all-around. Second place in the all-around was taken by Caroline Hossack of Victoria, South Africa. She was the South African champion this year.

Miss Johnson is also a member of the Alton Mid Jets gymnastics team.

South beats North in field hockey

Granite City North's and South's field hockey teams went at it Monday afternoon at South . . . and, as usual in any North-South game, UNusual happened. They tied.

At the end of regulation play, the score was as close as possible. North 0, South 0.

But in the second overtime period, South's Tammi Keeton scored the only goal of the contest. It gave the Warriorettes a 1-0 victory over the Steelerettes.

Both teams will be in action today.

North plays Mascoutah at home in a 4 p.m. game. South also has a home contest this afternoon, hosting Nerinx Hall at 4.

Steelerettes beat Alton in volleyball

The GCHS North Steelerette volleyball team racked up a win Tuesday night on the home court over Alton, 2-0 in the varsity matchup.

In the first game, North grabbed a 20-0 victory from the visiting Red Birds. The hosts returned in the second game to snare a 20-9 verdict.

The North junior varsity squad wasn't quite as successful, however. It lost to Alton 2-0, dropping the first game 20-9 and the second 20-12.

The next competition for North is tonight when it hosts Belleville East in a 6:30 contest.

South's volleyball team is also in action tonight, at home against Belleville Althoff, also at 6:30.

THIS AD WILL DISAPPEAR IN THIRTY SECONDS

Wouldn't that be silly?

That's what is nice about newspaper ads. They don't disappear in thirty seconds. They stay around the home longer. The consumers you want to reach can read your ad at their leisure. And re-read it. And refer to it later. Or clip a coupon from it. Newspaper ads last longer and reach more people than that other media we sometimes hear from — if it happens to be on.

Noon Day Opti-Mrs. hosts Guest Day

The Terrace Room of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, was the scene of the annual Guest Day of the Noon Day Opti-Mrs. Club, Monday.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Helen Todd, Mrs. Leonard Bickel, Mrs. Ann Little and Mrs. E. B. Nelson.

During a social hour guests were served punch followed by a luncheon prepared by the ladies of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the church.

Mrs. Nelson gave the invocation and Mrs. B. C. O'Neil, president of the club, presented the welcoming address.

Past presidents introduced included Mrs. John Lentz, Mrs. Leo Roman, Mrs. Sara Stevens, Mrs. Charles Gandorla and Mrs. Robert Brave.

Others attending were Mesdames Charles McCollum, Emil Mueller, Robert McCauley, Ralph Lerch, Carl Mathias, Clecie Talley, Lucian Dressel, Paul Edmonds, Charles Kohl, E. F. Reiske, B. E. Miller, Elmer Rittenhouse, Doris Oliver, Mae Bernard, George Stearns, Joan Kaseberg, Leland Garner, Lyndall Hagaman, Rose Donoff, Maria Natsieff, R. G. Kleinschmidt, Bess Henley, Keith Edwards and Louis Meek.

"How to Care For and Decorate With House Plants" was the topic of a program presented by Mrs. Earl Glenn, guest speaker.

She demonstrated her talk with plants from her home, followed by the awarding of three plants as prizes to Edna Bickel, Lee Garner and Doris Oliver.

Each guest also received a small potted plant as a favor.

Wills and Estate planning topic of Drusilla Andrews

The October meeting of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution was held at Charlie's Restaurant during the weekend with 11 members and three guests present.

Mrs. Janet Wilson, regent, conducted the opening ceremonies and Mrs. Lucille Butler led the group in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Irvin Slate Jr., spoke to the group on the topic of "Wills and Estate Planning." He divided his remarks into four groups: "what if you don't have a will; what can or should you do with your will; a reference to taxes affecting estates; and procedures in winding up estates."

In discussing bequests, Slate urged persons to consider a percentage of the estate, rather than a fixed dollar amount, due to the varying factors which affect the size of estates. One item, he stated, that so many people overlook as they designate various duties, is to be sure to have someone else's name on the safety-deposit box along with yours.

Contributions to several NSDAR funds were voted which included scholarship funds, microfilming funds, museum cataloging and collection funds, and genealogical record binding funds. Donations were also made to the Bacone and St. Mary's Indian Schools.

A report was given by the Veteran-Patients chairman and members were asked to prepare, jointly or separately, lap robes for either Scott Field or the Veterans Hospital at Marion. The size is to be 36" by 48". Paperback books are also being collected to be delivered in November to the Scott Field Hospital.

The regent announced that application is being made to establish a C.A.R. (Children of the American Revolution) chapter in the local area. Names, prior to 1825, are being researched for submission as the chapter name.

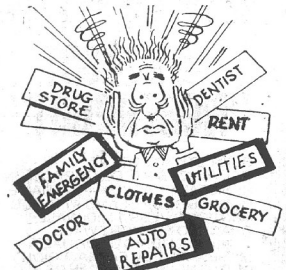

Mrs. Ruth McCarty presented the president general's message and Mrs. D. Reva Turner provided the challenging national defense topics.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Slate and Mrs. Lorene Cozart, a member of the Michael Hilliagus DAR Chapter in Southern Illinois. Other members present were Misses Nelle Hart and Mary Candler and Mesdames Eva Meier, Margaret Belt, Lucille Butler, Emma Schoen, Georgia Engelke, and Barbara Williams.

3-year city

6-8.5 salary agreement, vacations of four weeks after 10 years service (to begin in the second year) and that seniority shall prevail with any reductions in work force to first cut off employees most recently hired. It also provides that in expanding the work force, the persons most recently laid off be rehired first.

The treatment plant agreement provides a schedule of differential pay of $125 per month over base rate for maintenance foremen, $67.60 per month over base rate for operating foremen; $100 per month over base rate for electricians and $45 per month over base pay for incinerator operators.

Terms of the agreement for secretaries, in addition to the salary increases, provides that the secretaries shall be included under the city's sick leave provisions by which beneficiaries of an employee may receive one half of the employee's accumulated sick leave in the event of the death of an employee either on or off the job.

Percentage raises for secretaries will be based upon an average salary of secretaries employed by the city of Granite City, the agreement states.

Terms of the proposed Police Department contract that have been accepted by council members include a $20 monthly increase for each rank from sergeant to lieutenant-colonel, and provision for time and half for short changes in shift. The latter provision is to become effective in the third year of the contract.

Council members also have agreed to a change in the vacation schedule which becomes effective in the second year of the agreement for the 1978-79 year and 1979-80 year.

These changes provide four weeks vacation after 10 years service, replacing the present schedule of four weeks after 12 years; and five weeks vacation after 15 years service, replacing the present schedule of five weeks vacation after 18 years.

The agreement, in another provision that has been accepted by the council, provides that members of the department may pick their choice of shifts by seniority once each calendar year, but that "this in no way shall hamper the chief of police when necessity demands, to relocate any officers to a shift not of his choice, for reasons of vacations or any emergency that might arise."

In the fire department proposal, the same vacation schedule has been accepted by the council, along with paid holidays if the fireman works on a holiday.

Newly-drafted agreements for the fire and police employes will be acted upon by the council after the matter of paid hospitalization, rejected by the aldermen Tuesday night, is renegotiated.

The new contracts providing a 6 per cent salary increase for all city employees this year would add approximately $180,000 to the present annual payroll of $3 million.

On the basis of salary estimates compiled by Alderman Schuman, the additional first-year cost in the police department would add $42,266 to the present annual payroll of $704,265.

Cost of raises granted in the fire department would approximate $39,362, added to the present annual payroll of $656,041. First year salary increases at the sewage treatment plant would amount to $25,373, added to a present annual payroll of $422,880.

Schuman noted that the salary schedule of 6 per cent this year, 6 per cent next year and 8.5 per cent the third year was based on a study of consumer index figures which indicated "that this was a fair figure in light of today's cost of living."

He added that many three-year contracts in the larger industrial plants have been settled at around 30 per cent for the period. "This would indicate we are not overpaying our workers by granting the raises we settled on," Schuman said.

Terms of all of the new working agreements, those accepted by the council or still in negotiation, are retroactive to May 1 this year.

Pelican's beak

down the water and didn't appear to be injured to me," the police chief said.

"Maybe it was just tired and taking a rest," he speculated. It finally flew away, he added.

Chief Bennett agreed it was a giant bird.

Crawford said all three pelicans in residence at the St. Louis Zoo have suffered injuries, which brought them under the birdkeeper's care.

"One was blown into the St. Louis airport during a storm and the second was captured after injuring itself by flying into a telephone pole," Crawford said.

The third pelican inhabitant suffered a permanent injury several years ago and has since chosen to make its home at the zoo.

Crawford explained that zoo rules do not permit the staff to personally capture injured animals and birds and that area humane organizations usually are responsible for this task.

"We will accept a bird or animal after it has been captured and provide immediate medical treatment, if required," he said.

"If the bird is not seriously injured, it would be released after treatment, or would be kept in the collection here if it couldn't fly."

Just in case the pelican observed in this vicinity is injured and captured by an individual or member of a humane department's staff, Crawford offered his home telephone number where he may be reached in the evening hours.

The birdkeeper's number at home is 1-314-225-3182, or 1-314-781-0900 during the daytime.

The largest web-footed bird in existence, a pelican can grow to five feet in length. They have a naked pouch on the underside of the bill and on the front of the upper neck.

In the air, the pelican's grace is unequalled, but on the ground they look clumsy, which may account for appearing injured to some.

Pelicans usually remain together in colonies and are mostly seen along the California and Gulf coasts or in marshy lakes in the southern states.

However, the giant birds do nest in Canada and the western states and, although unusual, the local visitor may be working its way to a warmer climate via the midwestern route.

Anyone seeing the "Quad-City area" pelican or should it appear injured may contact Granite City Humane Officer Andy Chiappa at 876-8903, or 877-6111.

the sixth year.

"We have a three-year lease on life here and we are tremendously excited about what we can do with it to aid this county. Of course, we could use three times that much, but this will be a real blessing to Madison County," she said.

She also noted the county has an excellent chance to be considered for a new Urban Development Action Grant, aimed at improving blighted and decaying areas.

Criteria for applying for that grant are to be announced this weekend in the Federal Register and applications will be due in January.

The citizens' advisory groups of each city, village and township in the community development program are being asked to complete their block grant applications as soon as possible for the district's Community Development application.

Schuman commented Tuesday, "We already have had two district meetings and we are working on our application, but it appears some areas are going to be a little late. This is understandable since we just got the new guidelines Friday.

He said programs in the next three years of community development will emphasize aiding families of low or moderate income.

HUD lists $12,400 per year income or lower for families of four as the dividing line. That figure represents 80 per cent of the median income in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

No vote fraud—Hessler

Norman Hessler, a Nameoki Township trustee, asserted Wednesday that election judge practices followed in the township during the 1977 spring balloting are customary in Madison County.

He said allegations by defeated Supervisor Louis Whitsell have centered on areas where Whitsell's ticket fared poorly, ignoring other neighborhoods.

Testimony has been taken this fall in a lawsuit challenging the announced outcome of the election of township officials.

Hessler contended there have been more published quotes this year from Whitsell than from the former supervisor's political opponents.

Hessler commented, "If being elected required anything improper, there is not the person in our organization who would have anything to do with holding office. Those of you who know the people you elected are aware of this."

He said he was speaking out Wednesday to "those of you who don't know us.

"What has made everything so wrong in this election but was okay in years past, is that this time Whitsell lost.

"It is odd that the precincts where he found fault were the ones he lost heavily in. Where he won, everything was just fine.

"What the entire hearing failed to establish was any proof of fraud. In contested precincts Eleven, Eight and Six, numerous election judges and defendents were called to the stand.

"No accusations, evidence or contradictions which might infer foul play or fraud were charged by the judges, whom Whitsell himself had appointed.

"The news did not point out that the practice of judges initialing ballots in advance of rush periods was a common practice condoned by the county clerk. The news did not explain that the write-in votes for a Mike Briggs did not have an X in the square which is required in order to count any ballot, thus explaining why he received no votes on the tally sheets of Precinct Eight.

"In Precinct Eleven, where I live and was a watcher during the count, many charges were made by Whitsell's poll watchers.

"Harold Miller, a poll watcher, left during the count — the man got sick and requested to leave. No denial — but also no crime.

"Emma Hessler was called to the phone by the school janitor, who stated to the judges her son was on the phone. No denial — but also no crime.

"Judge Clarine Coggins, charged with carrying ballots away from the view of the other judges. Untrue.

"Mrs. Coggins never left the sight of other judges or watchers with any ballots, as was attested by other judges in court. Mrs. Coggins has served as an election judge for over 25 years, and to falsely accuse such people would be a real criminal act.

"I was charged with leaving the polls several times and counting a stack of ballots. From the time I entered and sat down, no movement was made until 1 left, and no ballots were counted.

"Of the five judges and three poll watchers present, only Whitsell's poll watcher saw the supposedly illegal actions of Mrs. Coggins and myself.

"What makes it even more amazing is the fact that the hearing forced revealing that this statement was prepared by Whitsell himself, and signed by a poll watcher.

"The only other witnesses Whitsell called were the husbands of two previous employees who apparently added nothing to prove wrongdoing in Precinct Eight," Hessler continued.

"As Attorney Adamsons charges contend, Whitsell does not come to court with clean hands. Action is presently being taken to collect an overpayment made by Whitsell prior to leaving office to two office employees without approval," Hessler contended.

"In reference to unauthorized General Assistance pay to his wife, Whitsell calls this a political play. The state auditor calls it something else, and wants the money returned to the General Assistance Fund.

"In over a two-year span, the state in writing refused Whitsell eight times to pay this employee. This matter was never brought before the Town Board and his only defense is that in March 1975 one letter states to show the expense as unauthorized while the county requests clarification from the state regional director.

"One week later, and repeatedly thereafter, the state refused this expense, and now they want their money back.

"This one letter prompted a large story and picture in the local newspaper — poor Whitsell was being picked on again.

"Mrs. Hawkins got the paper's ear last Monday and they printed for her how low down our tactics were and how previous auditors Hessler and Lee Adams shared responsibility by approving each GA payroll.

"Mrs. Hawkins has again illustrated her capacity to open mouth and insert foot when the media is present.

"If she were a trustee, she would know that the Town Board does not approve or control any General Assistance bills or payroll.

"The approval comes from the state and they examine the books. The board does review the bill list, but salaries are shown as "administrative."

"Mrs. Hawkins also took exception to the allegation that since Whitsell was her agent, she and the others were guilty of any error he may of made. All I can say is we are often known by the company we keep.

"Regardless of what the judge decides next week, many good citizens and officials have been wronged in Mr. Whitsell's grasping at straws to alter the will of the people and reverse the election results.

"In the meantime, he has moved next door to the highway department, conveying on himself the newly-originated title of supervisor of highways?

"Perhaps we should consult Granite City to see if this should be an elective or appointed position.

Nearly 3,100 Granite City Steel employees support the work of Torch Club-supported agencies by regular payroll deductions. These deductions range from a half hour's to an hour's pay a month.

In operation since 1952, the Labor-Management Torch Club was the area's first continuous-giving charity fund, starting under the name of the Granite City Steel 30-Minute Club.

Over the years, it has distributed a total of $1,780,675 to various causes, mainly in the Quad-City area.

G.C. Town Hall

done about it." He said no member of the Town Board had approached him on the matter.

Cruse, who sat with Hagnauer in the audience as the Town Board meeting got under way, was the first to take the floor when Bailey noted that the two town officials were present and asked if either of them, or both, wished to address the Town Board.

Cruse told the board that "There is no way I can move into the new building with 13 workers in the space allowed my office."

He said his office contains about 1,400 square feet of floor space, but noted that "This includes the kitchen, the rest rooms and heating facilities and actually doesn't give us 1,400 feet of space.

"I told the architect earlier that if I could get 1,500 feet of space, it would be all right. This plan (a blueprint of office arrangements for Hagnauer and Cruse prepared by the city engineer's office) provides for nine desks, but we need 13."

Cruse said that the 12-by-11-foot kitchen takes up room and that he could see no reason why the kitchen was included in the planning.

"I just want to go on record that I can't move in there," Cruse said. "I want to. It is a beautiful building, but we wouldn't have enough room to operate."

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer asked Cruse if the kitchen were removed would ample space be available. Cruse said that it would not.

At this point Alderman Charles Douglas attempted to ask Hagnauer, still seated in the audience, about the kitchen, but Hagnauer told Douglas, "I'll explain it when it is my chance to talk. Let him finish first."

Whitmer, referring to Cruse's statement that he would not move into the building, remarked that "If he says he won't move, then that's it."

"But who pays the rent?" Alderman Gerald Parmley asked.

Hagnauer told the council members:

"I didn't think the assessor would go to the newspaper with this. I don't want to argue with Von Dee. The reason the kitchens were planned in my office and the assessor's office is that Gabriel told me the state had recommended this to him.

"The building has been in the planning stage for several years.

"Cruse takes away from the real purpose of the building which is to help the senior citizens of Granite City. It takes away the credit for this beautiful building because of 100 feet of floor space."

Douglas said to Hagnauer, "I still don't know why there are kitchens in your office and Cruse's office. This is a working facility."

Ronald Coleman, alderman of the Seventh Ward, said he was aware of a state law that requires kitchen facilities in certain offices depending upon the number of persons working in those offices.

Cruse replied that "I don't want to do anything detrimental to this new building, or to the senior citizens. If they are going to use the building in their activities, that is fine. But I didn't know this was to be a senior citizens building. I thought it was an office building to house the supervisor's office and the assessor's office.

"I know I can't perform my duties there. How long have I been talking about this. I have talked to the aldermen and I talked to the architect."

Coleman suggested to Cruse that because of the arrangements and closets and filing space the new office might provide greater efficiency in operation.

Cruse said he knows that "I can't get my people in there. If any way can be worked out, that is fine."

As the discussion dropped off, Mayor Paul Schuler suggested that the board move on to its next business.

"That's the longest Town Board meeting I know of in many years," the mayor commented.

doing engineering work on the project.

City officials have approved a plan that will provide a building costing approximately $792,000, most of which will be financed by a Public Works Act grant.

The project originally was proposed as a new City Building complex that would include a number of city offices and would have cost an estimated $1.6 million. That project was planned, however, under the first round of Public Works Act grants in early 1976. The city failed to receive a grant in that program.

In a second round of Public Works grants this year the city revised its planning for a police station jail complex.

As a result of that planning, and with cooperation of Granite City school district officials who were to share in the funds available to this area, the city received a $670,000 Public Works Act grant to help finance the building.

In July the city was notified that an additional $74,000 grant had been awarded the project, bring the total federal grant monies to $744,000. Mayor Paul Schuler noted that this left the city with about $50,000 to be paid as its local share.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said that design plans of the new building will be available to contractors Monday for bidding purposes.

Moose Halloween parade Oct. 29, in Downtown GC

Moose Lodge 272 again will sponsor the traditional Halloween parade in Downtown Granite City at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, Boyd Presley, Moose Lodge governor, announced today.

Walter Anders, Civic Affairs chairman for the local Moose lodge, is in charge of the parade which annually attracts hundreds of youngsters and "older" marchers.

Participants will compete for costume awards in three different categories of competition — most original, best dressed and most comical.

First, second and third place prizes will be presented in each contest division, Anders said.

Between 40 and 50 additional consolation awards also will be distributed among the paraders, he added.

The parade will start in front of the City Hall on Niedringhaus Avenues, proceed south on State Street to 19th Street, west along 19th to Niedringhaus and Cleveland Boulevard and return along Niedringhaus to the City Hall steps for judging.

Those planning to take part are being urged to arrive at the City Hall assembly point about 7 p.m. Oct. 29, to receive numbers for easier identification by judges.

Parents are reminded to have the youthful paraders wear some type of reflective tape on their costumes, and to make certain a child's headgear does not obscure their vision while walking across streets to and from the parade area.

At the Moose District 10 meeting this Sunday at 10 a.m. at Wood River Moose Club, Granite City Moose Lodge 272 will present an $1,800 check to the Kidney Foundation Fund, Presley announced.

The amount represents donations collected by local Moose volunteers during a month-long candy sale, which climaxed with a public street sale of candy last weekend.

In 1976, the Granite City Moose members collected a total of $1,200 for the Kidney Foundation.

St. Margaret Mary hosts Teacher's Tea

The Ladies of St. Margaret Mary hosted a Teacher's Tea at the school last week with Sister Marie Monica, school principal offering the opening prayer.

New members welcomed were Kathryn Gorman, Margie Tarasovich, Judy Bucatch, Margaret Hamilton and Diane Naney.

During the affair the members finalized plans to purchase equipment for the school playground and games for the indoor activity hours.

Mrs. Marilyn Aerne gave a report on the plans for World Community Day, sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women United scheduled for November.

President Sandy Shaw presided at the meeting and announced the gift quilt was won by Mrs. Teresa Brzotoski, and the attendance prize went to the third grade of Miss Mary McKay.

Father Edward Groesch gave the closing meditations followed by refreshments and games.

Homemakers attend craft day session

Mrs. Martha McIlvoy was hostess to a craft day for members of the Granite City Unit, Madison County Homemakers Association, held in her home.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess followed by the workshop on macrame and needlepoint directed by Mrs. McIlvoy and Mrs. Wilma Ouca.

Those present were Freddie McIlvoy, Bernice Johannigmeier, Wanda Schewe, LaNell Lessig, Josephine Uram, Anna Michel, Hazel Cline, Elizabeth Schmidt, Marcie Johnson, Madge Ramsey, Laura Travis, Anne Pare and Rozella Johannigmeier.

Hilltoppers hear Oliver Pfeiffer

Oliver Pfeiffer gave the opening prayer and program at a meeting of the Hilltoppers Club held at St. John United Church of Christ, last week.

He spoke on the topic, "We People of All Times."

Twenty-nine members attended and agreed to bring canned foods to the next meeting to be donated to the Salvation Army for Thanksgiving dinners, for the area's needy families.

Mrs. Clara Harbig led the Lord's Prayer in closing and cake and coffee was served by those observing birthdays in September and October.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing games.

Halloween carnival is planned at Lake

The Parent-Teacher Association of Lake School met Tuesday evening with David Johnson, president, welcoming those in attendance and leading the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Faye Hester read the PTA prayer and reviewed the previous meeting, after which Mrs. Staretta Johnson gave a financial report.

Pat Withers, co-chairman of the Ways and Means committee, reported that the school's annual candy sale will begin on Nov. 1. He noted that a coupon for a free sundae will be given with each purchase.

Children given permission by their parents to sell the candy will be selling 50-cent bars and also $1.25 boxes of candy. This is the Lake PTA's only fund-raising event of the year.

Mrs. Lathy Lane reported that the Halloween carnival to be held on Friday, Oct. 28 between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. is in its final stages of planning.

Special attractions will be helium balloons, a "spook house," a "monster make-up parlor," a "witch's walk" featuring cakes and potted plants, a "gory game room," "freaky flicks," "Dracula's disco den," a "fortune teller" and "white ghost sale."

Hot dogs, popcorn, cotton candy, caramel apples, punch and coffee will be available, she said. Costume dress is being urged for all children and workers, but is not essential.

Mrs. Linda Schmitt reported that Lake's PTA membership is below the projected goal, and urged members to attempt to enroll others. This is PTA membership month, it was noted.

Johnson presented a request from Miss Janis Mehelic, the school's physical education teacher, for six new playground balls. It was decided that the PTA will purchase them for the school.

Open house will be held at Lake on Nov. 17 from 8:45 a.m. until 3 p.m., giving parents an opportunity to view classes in session, it was pointed out by Johnson.

Because of the daytime open house, there will be a PTA meeting on Nov. 15. The November meeting is usually bypassed because of an evening open house.

He also pointed out that the March meeting will be on the second Tuesday because of Easter vacation.

The subject of the possible Stallings School phasing-out was raised, and Mrs. Johnson brought to the attention of the members the fact that questionnaires had been mailed by the School Board to parents whose children might be involved in possible relocation. It was urged that these be returned to the board office as soon as possible.

Mrs. Linda Irwin's second grade class won the PTA attendance banner for October, and Withers was awarded the evening's prize.

Miss Pat Dineff, a Lake vocal music teacher, directed Mrs. Irwin's class in the presentation of two Halloween songs, along with a demonstration of music interpretation through skipping and marching.

A film entitled "Scoliosis — Screening for Early Detection" was shown, following a talk by Mrs. Nancy Gray, school nurse. She reported that all sixth grade students in the district have been or will be checked for scoliosis (curvature of the spine) this fall, and that plans are to check all seventh and eighth graders before the end of the school year.

She indicated that none of Lake's sixth graders showed symptoms of the potentially crippling disease.

Following the film, refreshments were served by sixth grade mothers.

M-V Rotary rummage sale

Toys, clothes and kitchen appliances will be among the items the Madison-Venice Rotary Club will have for sale at its rummage sale on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Rotarian Webber Starky, chairman of the event, reminded the members at the group's Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, to turn in the items collected for the sale.

The sale will be held from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., according to Starky. Refreshments will be sold.

Mrs. Margaret Barr is club hostess

Mrs. Margaret Barr, 709 Meadowlane Drive, entertained the Bakers Dozen Pinochle Club, in her home last week.

Those holding high scores and winning prizes were Norma Milnarec, Barbara Brandt, Bea Horn, Martha Ropac, Darlene Lakin and Sherry Black.

The hostess served refreshments to those named and to Doris Ross, Jeannine Stefanoff, Darlene Diak, Diane Signall, Ginger Hayes and Rhonda Hunter. Mrs. Horn will host the November meeting.

LAW SECRETARY MEETING

Mary McFadden, president of the Illinois Association of Legal Secretaries, will be visiting the Madison County chapter at its regular monthly meeting at Tony's Lounge in Alton on Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 6:30 p.m. Wiberta Wendel and Dorothy Hosto of Midwest Title Insurance will be the guest speakers.

DIABETES TAG DAYS

The Madison County Branch of the American Diabetes Association is aiding the Diabetic Children's Welfare Association tomorrow through Sunday in fund-raising tag days for diabetes research. Madison County chairmen are Judy Maguire of Wood River, Dan and Betty Bagby of East Alton and Marianne Roney of Edwardsville.

Serious questions confront U.S. and its steelmakers

(14th of a series)

To summarize past assertions, the Japanese steel industry has performed what the Industrial Bank of Japan has characterized as a 15-year "high-wire act."

The key elements of this program have been highly-leveraged, rapidly-expanding operations stabilized by aggressive export pricing practices.

Europeans, while equally aggressive in many respects, have been more prevalent, and because of their higher variable costs, the Europeans have been less able to maintain high operating rates through short-run pricing below full costs.

The factors which underly the growth in world steel exports are still present today.

Government assistance enables foreign producers to expand more quickly than if their expansion were governed exclusively by market forces.

Rapid expansion increases the risk of overcapacity, which in turn increases the pressure to export.

In the short run, it makes sense for foreign producers to sell on the export market at any price they can obtain above variable costs in order to help cover their fixed costs.

Nineteen seventy-six witnessed some of the lowest operating rates in history in Japan and even worse rates throughout the European Economic Community. Export prices from both areas have fallen sharply.

In some cases, EEC transaction prices entering the U.S. appear to be at levels which may be below variable costs, defined as employment and material costs.

The reason for this phenomenon seems to be that labor is viewed increasingly as a fixed cost—especially in producing nations where steel production is owned or at least heavily influenced by the government.

Given this concept of economics, it is preferable for a producer to sell at any price above material costs — since labor is paid anyway — rather than to forego the sale.

In recent months, the surge of low-priced exports has continued, despite large losses in England (in excess of $400 million last year), Italy (Finsider lost $150 million in 1976), Benelux, France, and even Japan.

According to Metal Bulletin, the top five Japanese producers all sustained losses on their steel operations in the period ending September 1976.

Yet, despite the disastrous profit performance and low operating rates in 1976, new capacity additions continue in Europe, Japan and in many developing nations.

The larger pattern which emerges from this analysis is that the steel export game — as practiced in such accomplished style by the Japanese — is one which many other governments have been and will continue to be tempted to play.

Some will, of course, have more success than others.

However, if all one needs to get into the game is government backing (as opposed to the demonstrated ability to earn sustained return on a large equity base) —

And if each nation is adding "a little extra" capacity for the export market, while at the same time the traditional leaders in international steel trade appear to be growing increasingly dependent on exports to maintain their production growth —

Serious questions arise as to where all that exported steel will be sold, and at what price, and what the implications will be for steel producers (principally those in the U.S.) who must depend on their ability to provide a return on equity to investors in order to stay in business.

Urban public service funds

A $23,400 grant from the U.S. Office of Education to fund three public service fellowships through the Master of Science in Urban Studies Program at SIUE has been announced by Michael Quinn, acting director of the program.

He said he believes the grant, authorized under Title IX of the Higher Education Act of 1965, is the first of its type at institutions of higher education in this region.

Explaining the program objectives, Quinn said the fellowship is designed to support preparation for public service careers of persons who have demonstrated exceptional potential.

The university was selected for the grant because of its approved program for preparation of persons for public service leadership and management careers.

During the past year, Urban Studies students have analyzed the St. Louis magnet schools program for the superintendent of schools, evaluated Chicago's Home Loan Review Panel for the state savings and loan commissioner, planned a strategy for the Missouri State Commission on Human Rights, advised the St. Louis Welfare director on how to respond to jail overcrowding, advised an Illinois city manager on whether the city's electric plant should be sold, and proposed answers to the St. Louis Teachers Union president on the school violence program.

Urban Studies interns have surveyed problems of the elderly in East St. Louis public housing, and developed a transportation survey of the St. Louis metropolitan area for the Illinois Department of Transportation.

They have analyzed issues confronting a St. Louis citizens' community assistance agency, staffed the U.S. Attorney's Citizen Complaint Center in Washington, D.C., evaluated the Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation Program, and served as an administrative assistant to the mayor of East Alton.

Nominations of graduate students to fill future fellowships will be made to the U.S. commissioner of education by the Urban Studies Program faculty, based on a review of new students in the program.

Stipends will include tuition and fees for the period Sept. 1 through Aug. 31. Quinn said he expects the nominations to be announced in the near future.

The emphasis in the Urban Studies Program is on applied techniques and problem solving.

Describing the curriculum as innovative, he said it includes training in established fields, instruction in interdisciplinary seminars, and experience in solving "real" problems in a laboratory setting and in an internship program.

The teaches analytic methods needed to perform such basic urban jobs as program design and evaluation, budgeting, and long-range policy planning.

Entertain at realtors' meet

Gordon Routh of Mitchell and Wayne Kopchak of Granite City were among members of the Joey James Orchestra which entertained during the weekend for the Illinois Association of Realtors annual convention at the Sheraton O'Hare Inn, Chicago.

Edwardsville Realtor Walt Schlemer, also an area musician, was installed as president of that association, the first president ever elected from Southern Illinois. Numerous "big band" era instrumentalists were invited to the convention and entertained for Schlemer's installation.

Madison secretaries initiate and install

The Madison High School Future Secretaries Association held an initiation and installation of officers last week at the Madison High School, in an evening ceremony.

Mrs. Gail Foley, certified professional secretary, (CPS) welcomed the new members, guests and parents and Mrs. Charlsie Vunovic spoke on behalf of FSA and how the organization can affect their future relations as a secretary.

Lee Ashby extended appreciation to other faculty advisors Mrs. Beverly Imming and Mrs. Raelyn Boston for their assistance in the newly organized program.

The guest speaker for the evening was Juanita Carter, Employment Specialist for Monsanto Co. She spoke of the performance of a secretary, the duties and her role in the office. She gave some interesting tips "be top notch" "think of quality and quantity" and "make your goals realistic."

Presentation of new members included Tina Apponey, Donna Crook, Sharon DeLoach, Deborah Ellis, Cheryl Finch, Martha Foreshee, Lucretia Garrett, Sherri Grzywacz, Elizabeth Hall, Tammy Lynn, Theresa McMurtry, Linda Novosel, Darlene Reed, Dawn Roberson, Jean Sardigal, Debra Sutt, Veronica Walker, and Tina Windell.

The 1977-78 officers are Jeri Echols, president; Truville Williams, vice-president; Averyllis Dandridge, corresponding secretary; Carol Young, recording secretary and Lesa Ingram, treasurer.

Ajournment was given by the president, Jeri Echols.

Lesche tours St. Louis sites

Lesche Literary Club members and their guests toured the Sappington House and Museum of National History as the highlight of the club's annual guest day observance.

The St. Louis home, built in 1808, noted as one of the oldest homes in the area, was furnished with many pieces of the original furniture. After the tour the group attended a luncheon before visiting the museum.

Guests attending were Gertrude Luebben, Ella Rae Smith, Evelyn Maxwell, Cecelia Kleinschmidt, Virginia John, Nanie Meadows, Eithel Beeler, Pauletta Mueller, Ertha Johnson, Francie Blumfelder, Christy Holsinger, Corinna Merker, Etoila Eichacker, Dee Roberts and Mary Ann Cochran.

World Community Day set Nov. 3

Quad-City Church Women United will hold its annual World Community Day celebration at 7:30 p.m. Thursday Nov. 3, at St. Elizabeth Church, 2300 Pontoon Road.

Theme of this year's program is "Heart Change — Global Change." It deals with water as the symbol of God's justice and the fulfillment of justice in Jesus, a CWU spokesman noted.

Participating in the program will be the Folk Guitar Choir from the host church. A separate service for children will be held at the same time as the adult session. All youngsters are being invited to attend.

Church Women United Days of Celebration bring together the differences in denominations to celebrate "Unity in Christ," the CWU officer said.

A fellowship hour will follow the service.

Homemakers needed by families in area

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is recruiting additional adults as homemakers to serve families with children in Madison County.

James T. Mueller is homemaker coordinator for the department's metropolitan area program, based at 10 Collinsville Ave., East St. Louis. There are active field offices in Granite City (1506 Johnson Road) and Alton.

"We need fulltime homemakers to assist families when the mother or primary care-giver is ill or hospitalized. This is usually on a short-term basis and if families do not have helping resources on their own," Mueller reports.

"Such assistance during illness can prevent a serious disruption of the children's daily lives and routines. The homemaker's presence can prevent the temporary placement of children into foster care, and hence serves to keep the family unit intact.

"In other equally-important situations, homemakers can offer part-time supportive skills to families who have experienced child neglect, child abuse, or an infant's failure to thrive.

"In helping parents improve the quality of child care or household management, family life is enriched and the likelihood of child placement is often diminished.

"Homemakers with skill and wide experience in handling children are particularly effective in such vital teaching and instructing. They work along with and take direction from the experienced, professionsl social work staff.

"Applicants must be at least 21 years old, though older age groups are encouraged, and often preferred. They must have easy access to a car, and must be available for flexible work-hours on an as-needed basis.

"Those interested in applying can be male or female but must have a high degree of flexibility, patience, compassion, understanding and practical intelligence. They must be potentially able to work within stressful, crisis situations.

"They must feel comfortable working in homes with lifestyles often different from their own. Perhaps, above all, applicants must be able to relate well with children and be sensitive to their individual needs."

Interested applicants may write Mueller or call him at 875-9300, ext. 249.

Radio program on Bakke case

WSIE (88.7 on the FM dial) will present a one-hour National Public Radio report on "The Future of Affirmative Action," Friday at 11 a.m. WSIE-FM is located on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

An update on the Allan Bakke case is to be featured in the program. In that case, Bakke, a white applicant to the Davis medical school, claims he was unconstitutionally denied admission because of a special minority admissions program. The California Supreme Court has upheld Bakke's claim; the U.S. Supreme Court will rule on an appeal early next year.

From Bakke, the report will move to an examination of admission and hiring policies at various American universities.

Interviewed on the program will be the attorneys for both sides of the Bakke case; Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Thomas Sowell, author of "Race and Economics"; and a representative from Laraza, the Mexican-American lawyers association.

FALL CHRYSANTHEMUM DISPLAY AT GARDEN

Thousands of white, pink, yellow and bronze mums — from small button varieties to large flowering specimens cascading from hangingig baskets — will be on display for the Missouri Botanical Garden's annual fall chrysanthemum show, scheduled for Oct. 22 through Nov. 13 in the garden's Floral Display House, 2101 Tower Grove Ave.

Gate admission to the garden is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. A preview party for Botanical Garden members will be held from 5 to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, with music by Larry Mantese and modeling of fall fashions from The Shop for Pappagallo.

Trees, shrubs help homes in several ways

Planting trees and shrubs around your home not only adds to its good looks but also reduces soil erosion, glare and unwanted noise, according to a landscape architect in the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale School of Agriculture.

Gregory Pierceall says deciduous trees such as maple provide shade in the summer and allow the warming sun to reach homes in the winter. "Evergreen plants provide winter color and interest, and buff harsh winter climates when properly placed," he said.

"Before you decide what plants to use in landscaping your grounds, it's important to understand how the plants function and which types best meet your needs.

"Ultimate size is one important characteristic to notice in selecting plants. Landscapers put them in three classes: (1) overhead canopy; (2) intermediate trees; and (3) ground plane plantings. These varying plant sizes are measured in terms of the ultimate mature size.

"Overhead canopy trees may be deciduous or evergreen and have the greatest effect on the site and neighborhood because they can be seen from a distance.

"Deciduous canopy trees provide needed shade in summer and yet allow filtered sun in winter. Evergreen canopy trees give visual interest and shade year-round.

"The type and placement of intermediate trees will depend on what surrounding canopy trees are nearby.

"Intermediate trees, either deciduous or evergreen, provide variety in form, color and size and serve as an accent or focus." Pierceall said. "They also provide a living screen and modify the effect of winds.

"Ground plane plantings are smaller plants which complete the transition between vertical canopy trees and the ground.

"These are also used as accents and provide variety in size, form, texture and color," he added.

"In addition, they reduce soil erosion, absorb heat and glare from reflective surfaces and soften architectural lines.

"To plan your landscape, evaluate the relationship between your home and the rest of the neighborhood and take into consideration environmental factors such as sun and winds, plus other factors affecting your comfort and family needs in the outdoor living area.

"Selection of specific plants should be localized to your individual hardiness zone and soil situation. Nurserymen, garden centers or landscape architects can help in planning specific species."

Discuss fuel made of grain

"Gasohol" was discussed Tuesday night by the National Farmers Organization of Madison County, meeting at Hamel.

Sen. Percy is among a growing number of senators and congressment reportedly showing interest in "gasohol," a blend of gasoline and alcohol made from grain, as a fuel for vehicles.

The NFO has supported use of "gasohol" for the past several years, noting the nation's oversupply of grain.

A member said use of "gasohol" could reduce air pollution and would be less costly than "straight" gasoline.

He said its production would create more jobs for Americans, build a market for grain farmers and help to balance trade deficits.

Limited quantities of "gasohol" are being produced and used in pilot programs in Minnesota and Nebraska, the spokesman pointed out.

TELEVISION STOLEN

A $300 portable color television set was stolen from the home of Susan Boyer, 111 Wilson Park Lane, it was discovered at 10:40 a.m. Sunday. Entry was believed gained by forcing open the front door lock.

PAMELA KLEIN

Rape center established

Pamela G. Klein of Collinsville has been appointed director of the newly established Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, subject to approval by the SIU Board of Trustees.

She is responsible for implementing and developing a program of free service and education for members of the university community, as well as the entire area, who have been raped, sexually abused or who would like information on this problem.

She attended both SIU at Carbondale and SIUE, from which she has a master of science degree in counselor education. She received her bachelor of arts degree in psychology and sociology.

Formerly on the staff at the Transactional Analysis Institute of St. Louis, for which she still provides consultant services, she is a charter member of the American Mental Health Counselors Association. From 1968 to 1974 she owned, operated and directed a state-accredited nursery school in Collinsville.

From 1974 to 1976, Miss Klein worked at the Rape Crisis Center in St. Louis, where she became interested in the problems of rape and sexual abuse. She was on the governance board for the establishment of the Rape Intervention Program at SIUE. The center is being funded through the Student Affairs Office.

Meet on ethnic education goals

An Illinois Advisory Council on Multicultural Education has been appointed by State Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin to make recommendations on the scope and direction of multicultural programs in the state.

The multicultural approach is one that builds into the curriculum an awareness of the contributions made by ethnic groups in Illinois.

The council will hold its first meeting in Chicago on Oct. 27 and 28. Two other meetings will be held — in June and in February. Members include Dr. Robert Hildebrand, SIUE professor of education.

"The aim of the advisory council will be to provide planning for a more culturally pluralistic approach to education — an approach that recognizes the role of all groups in shaping our society," Dr. Cronin said.

In addition to assessing the present status of multicultural programs, members will be asked to establish priorities for the delivery of statewide multicultural services and to consider suggestions for legislation. Results of their deliberations will be published in a final report.

Passenger hurt

The autos of Raymond Thornton, 1516 rear Fourth St., Madison, and John Bilna, 500 Washington Ave., Venice, collided on Nameoki Road at Herbert Street this week, resulting in injuries to a passenger in Thornton's auto.

Mrs. Cheri Thornton, 18, Collinsville, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where a back strain was diagnosed and she was released after treatment and x-rays.

Two children in the auto, ages 1 and 2, escaped injury.

Msgr. Mattingly honored for 25th year at St. Elizabeth

A concelebrated mass was said at 10 a.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Church, Pontoon and Johnson roads, in honor of Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly's 25th year at the church.

In reverence to Msgr. Mattingly, the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Honor Guard led the procession, followed by the Daughters of Isabella. Our Lady of Fatima, Circle 835, followed by members of the Knights of Columbus and their wifes of Council 1098; Pastor Rev. Henry Schmidt; the Rev. Kenneth Becker, assistant priest of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church; the Rev. Robert O'Hare of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, and the Rev. Ralph Scherrer of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison, while the choir sang "Song of Good News" directed by Mrs. Jane Kozielek.

Rev. Schmidt, Rev. Becker and Rev. Robert Scherrer, pastor of St. Marys', gave the homily on "Thou Art a Priest Forever." He reminded all in attendance that this also was said to Msgr. Mattingly "when he became a priest and faithfully carried out his promise and has been the shepard of his fold." Father Scherrer gave his personal thanks, along with the other priests "for his love he gave to all."

The Credo was entoned by Rev. Becker. The choir continued the credo in Latin.

The offering procession was led by Leo Portell, faithful navigator of the Knights of Columbus Council 1098; Mrs. Irma Manning, regent of the Daughters of Isabella; Mrs. Mary Evalyne Yenko, president of the Altar Society, and Mr. Edward Heintz, president of the Holy Name Society of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" was sung by the choir.

During the Communion "Ave Maria," a solo, was sung by Mrs. Angie Brown and an additional solo by Brother Mathew Penning from Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, "I Will Never Forget Thee" was sung.

After the concelebrated mass, a recessional was followed by the Knights of Columbus, Daughters of Isabella, Holy Name Society, Altar Society, the priests and members of the parish with the song, "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee."

James Francis Haack was commentator for the mass.

Mrs. Paula Thouvent, publicity chairman of the Altar Society of St. Elizabeth was assigned to photograph various stages of the mass and performances.

A brunch followed in the cafeteria. All were served from a table decorated in white with greenery and red roses, with the "Madona" in the center and candles at each side, surrounded by greenery and red rose buds.

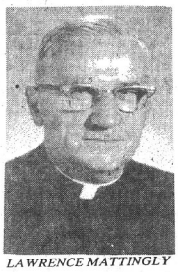

Coffee and tea were poured from the silver tea and coffee set.

Mrs. Vivian Byers was in charge of the guest book.

Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly was born on May 21, 1908 in Paris, Ill. to Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Mattingly of Paris. The Monsignor was ordained on June 10, 1933, by Bishop James Griffen at the Cathedral in Springfield, and spent a year at the University in Washington District of Columbia. He attended Quincy College and studied for the priesthood at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis.

He served as an assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception at Mattoon, Ill.

From 1933 to 1934 and was an assistant at St. Patrick's Parish, Pana, Ill. from 1934 to 1942. He was appointed pastor of Christ the King Church in Greenup, Ill. and served there from 1942 to 1952. He was then appointed pastor of St.

LAWRENCE MATTINGLY

Elizabeth Catholic Church in Mitchell, Ill. in 1952.

Under his leadership a 16-acre piece of property was acquired at the corner of Johnson and Pontoon roads in Granite City. Plans were drawn, a contract let and construction of a school was begun. Later funds were raised to start the building of the church.

A residence was purchased at 2301 Pontoon Road, and converted to the rectory now being used.

The last mass read at St. Elizabeth's in Mitchell was Nov. 11, 1962.

Father Mattingly received the rank of Monsignor by Pope Paul VI on May 20, 1974. Msgr. Mattingly besides his priestly duties was chaplain for the Daughters of Isabella, the Knights of Columbus and social and civic groups including the Boy Scouts, YMCA, Granite City Soccer Association. He also was involved with the organization of OATH that provides jobs for the handicapped.

Msgr. Mattingly also served as a dean in the Alton Deanery from 1970 to June 1977.

Those serving on the committee for this occasion were Mesdames Marge Noeth, Anna Palsgrove, Helen Urban, Mary Evalyne Yencho, Joyce Gasparovic, Patricia Thomas, Grace Range, June Stieb, Joan Achenbach, Pat Fitzgerald, Vivian Byers, Rosalia Johnnegmeier and Jack Trittschuh. Mrs. Anne Pare was chairman.

RETREAT FOR MARRIED COUPLES IS PLANNED

A special retreat for married couples will be given the weekend of Nov. 4-6 at the Family Life Center, Pevely, Mo., by the St. Pius X Abbey. Theme will be "The Spirit in the family, in the family of the married couple and in the family of the church."

The Rev. Wilfrid Tunink, OSB (314-296-7470), director of the center, will conduct the retreat.

St. Ann Society advances plans

Several members of St. Ann's Altar Society are planning to attend the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's convention, scheduled this weekend at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield.

Society members reviewed plans for the convention trip at a meeting last week at St. Joseph's Church. Mrs. Ann Pieper, vice-president, was in charge.

The Rev. Robert Manzer gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. Marie Syzmcek read a report from the previous meeting and a financial statement.

Savings seen if sewer maintenance is done as part of treatment program

"In answer to the request of the City Council regarding cost-saving ideas, I have accumulated a list of areas I feel could be investigated for cost savings. Some of these recommendations concern only improving efficiency; however, I feel that efficiency and cost reduction are closely related," City Engineer Monroe F. Brewer reported Tuesday night.

"In the Engineering Department itself, most expenses are set by salary and insurance requirements and there is little room for significant savings in the remaining areas.

"I feel that the Engineering Department since its creation in October 1973 has resulted in the availability of more services to the city at a cost of 33 per cent of what the same services would have cost if consulting engineers would have been used, as was done in the past.

"At the end of fiscal year 1976, I reviewed the work that had been performed for the last three years and — using current consulting engineering rates — assigned values to this work, reflecting what a consultant would have charged the city for these services.

"I also totaled the expenditures that the city made for operating the Engineering Department during the same period.

"The result was that the city had spent $129,000 for operation of the Engineering Department during those three years and received services that if done by consulting engineers would have cost the city $383,000, or 300 per cent of what was spent.

"We have not by any means completely eliminated the need for consulting services because a city our size cannot afford the staff necessary to design a fire house, police station or overpass.

"Even very large cities must use consultants for this size and type of jobs.

"It may be well to note, also — with pride — that in the three fiscal years mentioned above, the Engineering Department has never expended more than 80 per cent of the budget allowed by the Council for a fiscal year," Brewer related.

"As city engineer, I feel that my duties include making recommendations for management and operation of all departments which control public works functions.

"I, therefore, propose that the following items to reduce costs or increase efficiency be considered and evaluated for suitability as they affect the appropriate departments.

1. "TRAFFIC SIGNAL MAINTENANCE. Currently, traffic signal maintenance is performed without contract by the R. Dron Electrical Company.

"Dron Electric has in the past installed most of the traffic signals in the city and provided satisfactory maintenance when requested either routinely or as the result of an emergency. I do feel, however, that a competitively-bid 24-hour service contract with provision for routine preventive maintenance would reduce costs and require less emergency maintenance.

"Every time a signal fails to function properly, the city is open to liability for claim as a result of any damage caused by the malfunctioning signal.

"A good preventive maintenance program would not eliminate the need for emergency altogether, but could substantially reduce the potential for signal failure.

2. "CENTRALIZED VEHICLE REPAIR. Currently, the city has two full-time mechanics that repair Street Department equipment. Vehicles used by other city departments are repaired commercially.

"Costs of vehicle maintenance could be reduced if the following steps were initiated:

(a) "A central garage organized whereby most routine preventive maintenance and repair can be performed on all city vehicles.

"It is reasonable to assume that, while this center could perform routine work, it will still be necessary to have some specialized work performed by outside garages.

"This work might include transmission work, motor overhauls, body work and repair work to fire trucks and some heavy construction equipment.

(b) "Mechanics should be employed on two shifts so that vehicles needed for work during the day can be maintained after 5 p.m.

(c) "Preventive maintenance, ie., oil changes, checks for worn parts, tune-ups should be performed at mileage or hours' service, as determined for the the service manual for the particular equipment.

(d) "Complete records should be maintained so that it can be determined when a particular piece of equipment has outlived its economic life and should be replaced.

3. "MOTOR VEHICLE AND EQUIPMENT REPLACEMENT PROGRAM.

"Every motor vehicle and substantial piece of equipment that the city owns should be inventoried and its purchase value and date of purchase noted.

"An expected life should be developed and equipment replacement should be projected for the next 10 years. The program should be adjusted so that about the same total value of equipment is replaced each year.

"The program should be re-evaluated each year at budget time. The coming year's program can be modified to reflect current information, such as the last year's maintenance costs.

"Equipment that has useful life remaining can be replaced in the annual program by equipment scheduled for future years' replacement that has deteriorated earlier than expected.

"By using this method, it is possible to keep annual equipment replacement costs at an even rate and also allow for the purchase of new types of equipment — or replacement of old equipment with more modern, multi-purpose equipment that may replace several older pieces.

"In the case of construction equipment, about $50,000 per year is generated from motor fuel tax rentals to arterial maintenance and those receipts should be identified in the following year's budget for 'replacement of old equipment' purposes.

4. "CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PROGRAM. An inventory should be made of all city buildings and property.

"Each department head and committee should determine necessary improvements or expected major maintenance requirements for the property under their control for the next ten years, including the year that the requirement is expected to occur.

"Costs of these items can then be projected. The city's street and sewer systems should be reviewed and a list of necessary improvements in this area should be developed.

"A ten-year capital improvements program can then be developed with projects listed in each year matching an amount of money that the City Council projects from expected revenues for this purpose.

"This program should be reviewed each year at budget time, adjusting as necessary, for whatever new facts may become available regarding projects for a particular year — or adjusting priorities for projects that may not meet the projected need and must be done earlier or later.

"If windfall funding becomes available for public works projects, those projects on the capital improvements list should be given priority.

"This list would also provide for scheduling of engineering work prior to the year in which the program is scheduled, so that the work can be contracted as projected.

5. "SEWAGE LIFT STATIONS. Sewage lift stations are currently serviced by the Street Department, which employs two men and a truck full-time for this purpose.

"The operation and maintenance of lift stations is more related to the work of the Sewage Treatment Plant workers and this function should be transferred to that department, with the equipment used for maintenance.

"The Sewage Treatment Plant has workers available 24 hours a day and — when emergency work is required — it could be done without overtime. This could result in a decrease of two employees in the Street Department — probably should be two temporary positions.

"Two additional personnel would probably have to be hired at the Sewage Traatment Plant, but savings can be realized in the elimination of overtime, since the maintenance employees are working at their regular time.

"Savings would also be realized by prompter service, since no one would have to look for an employee to call out — and the losses for lawsuits caused by sewers backing up in basements could be reduced.

"It should be noted that two employees must be present when lift station work is done for safety reasons.

"By changing this function, the cost of operating and maintaining lift stations would become a part of the sewage treatment rate, charged homeowners, which can be passed on to sewer users when the rates are reviewed.

"The general revenue funds saved in the Street Department can be freed for other uses.

6. "PLACE THE COSTS OF SEWER MAINTENANCE IN WITH THE COST OF THE SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT OPERATION.

"Under the Environmental Protection Agency guidelines for capital recovery and determination of sewage treatment rates, the EPA says all costs related to 'sewage works' must be included.

"The guidelines also allow for accumulation of cash for the purpose of replacement of facilities for unexpectedly large maintenance expenses.

"What this means is that sewer maintenance can continue as in the past.

"Institution of new accounting procedures can identify all cost-related to sewer maintenance — and add them to the costs which are paid for by the money generated from all sewer user fees, including those to be added by the cities of Madison and Venice and the four-township sewers in the future.

"Here again, the general revenues no longer used for this purpose can be used for other purposes.

"To somewhat equalize the situation to start, the assessment in the property for sewers can be dropped. Incidentally, Granite City has one of the lowest municipal sewage treatment rates in the state.

7. "RODDING HOUSE SEWERS. The practice of rodding house sewers which are the property of the homeowner uses the services of two men and one truck and probably costs about $35,000 per year.

"I know of no other municipality or sewer utility that provides this service.

"The city is not legally responsible for clogs or root intrusions in house sewers and this practice should either be dropped or the homeowners who need this service should be charged a reasonable fee.

"If item No. 6 is instituted, the cost of this service would, however, be covered by the overall sewer rate.

"The above items represent areas that I feel have the potential for providing either reduced costs or increased efficiency. In order to determine the actual value of these items, it will be necessary to perform detailed studies of costs of the various alternatives.

"I will be pleased to work with the appropriate committee to investigate these ideas further or any others that may be presented."

Births increase in Quad-Cities

A total of 73 births occurring in the Quad-City area during September was a decline of 19 below 92 births reported in the same month a year ago, according to a vital statistics report by Robert Stevens, city clerk of Granite City who handles areawide statistics.

Stevens' report showed that only two more deaths were reported last month, a total of 47, as compared to 45 in the same month in 1976.

There were no fetals last month, while three were reported in September a year ago.

Last month's statistics brought to 756 the total number of births during the nine months of the year, compared with 685 during the same period last year. The nine-month total of deaths was 418, compared to 362 for the same period in 1976.

There have been nine fetals so far this year, compared with six at the same time last year.

'Let them eat cake'—but how about meat, eggs, Senator?

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., is changing his mind about what Americans should eat.

In the process, he is making peace with meat and egg producers who have suggested he is taking the bread and butter from their tables.

Livestock and egg industry representatives, as well as producers of other commodities, have been upset since January, when the Senate Select Committee on Nurtition and Human Needs issued its "dietary goals for the U.S."

That report, the product of a year-long investigation, urged Americans to consume less meat, eggs, sugar, salt, butterfat and foods which have a high content of cholesterol, sugar and salt.

It encouraged Americans to eat more poultry, fish, fruits, vegetables and whole grains and to substitute non-fat milk for milk and polyunsaturated fat for saturated fat.

If not the most popular report ever issued by a committee, it certainly was one of the most widely circulated: more than 35,000 copies have been issued so far.

It drew praise from some nutritionists and consumer groups and, as might be expected, the producers of fruits, vegetables, grains and fish.

Equally predictable, it drew the wrath of those whose livelihood depends on the very commodities which the committee report suggests might not be as healthy.

It also drew the attention of the American Medical Association, which said, in effect, that the government should refrain from telling people what to eat.

Most of the heat was directed at Percy, as the ranking Republican, and South Dakota Democrat George McGovern, as the committee chairman. Granite Cityans remember McGovern from his November 1972 presidential campaign talk at the Memorial Gymnasium. Sen. Percy is seeking re-election in 1978.

Percy's office received several hundred letters and telephone calls objecting to the report, including letters from the livestock and egg industries.

At the request of livestock industry representatives, Percy's office contacted 50 doctors and other health professionals—twice as many as the associations requested—to sample their views on the report. The reviews were mixed and inconclusive.

Separate hearings were scheduled for the egg and meat industries. The United Egg Producers wanted the committee to scrap the report in its entirety; the livestock industry requested changes.

Percy and other committee members balked at discarding the report, but the Illinois Republican says he wants changes made in it.

He proposed some of those changes at a hearing attended by Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, who viewed the revisions as constructive.

Instead of encouraging Americans to eat less meat and more poultry and fish, Percy would say Americans should "eat less fatty meat and increase the consumption of meat, fish and poultry."

Instead of encouraging Americans to eat fewer eggs and other "high cholesterol sources", Percy now advocates emphasizing that egg consumption should be part of a balanced diet and that it affects different people in different ways.

Percy says the report should be changed to stress that dietary needs vary, and that persons with a real diet-related problem should consult a health professional.

Those and other changes are expected to be included in a revised report expected to be available in November.

Are the changes motivated by Percy's concern for the health of the nation, the health of the affected industries, or his own political health?

A Percy spokesman said the changes are not the result of the industry pressures, but stem from the views expressed by health professionals and by the testimony at the hearings.

Changeover to lighter frames reduces profit

The third-quarter seasonal lull in earnings at A. O. Smith Corporation was more severe than normal in 1977, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said Monday in Milwaukee.

Model changes in the company's Automotive Division, the largest and most extensive in recent years, resulted in very low profits for continuing businesses in the quarter, Smith said.

However, he said that the outlook for shipments of automobile and truck frames, the principal products of the division, is bright for the balance of 1977 and into 1978. The division's plants are in Milwaukee and Granite City.

Smith said that in the third quarter the Automotive Division installed and started up four entirely new production lines for smaller and lighter frames for the General Motors intermediate passenger car line.

At the same time, there was extremely high demand for build-out of 1977 model frames.

The overtime, training costs and other expenses related to the build-out and start-up caused the division to operate at a loss in the quarter compared with a break-even quarter a year ago when another major — but less extensive — model change was undertaken.

Earnings from continuing operations in the quarter were $110,000, or two cents per share, on sales of $165,947,000.

In the same period last year, the company had earnings from continuing operations of $1,105,000, or 23 cents per share, with sales of $140,271,000.

For the first nine months, earnings from continuing operations were $11,762,000, or $2.40 per share, on sales of $555,419,000, compared with earnings of $11,976,000, or $2.45 per share, on sales of $457,948,000 last year.

A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., a subsidiary, reported substantial increases sales volume and earnings in the quarter, compared with last year.

Demand for Harvestore sales bolume and earnings in the quarter, compared with last year.

Demand for Harvestore Products' livestock feeding systems was strong during the quarter. Improved weather and lower crop prices have encouraged livestock farmers to increase their investments in this type of equipment.

With the exception of the Electric Motor Division, which experienced a more severe seasonal low than it did in the third quarter last year, the rest of the company's divisions and the Reinforced Plastics Division of A. O. Smith-Inland Inc., an affiliate, had higher sales volumes in the quarter. All of these operations were profitable.

Smith noted that during the quarter it was announced that the operations of the Powder Metallurgy Division of A. O. Smith-Inland would be phased out. Losses associated with this decision adversely impacted profits for the period by approximately eight cents per share.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer.

Its product line includes water heating equipment, electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, agricultural financing, auto and truck frames, fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe and computer services.

Three accepted as students at Morris College

Beverly Uzunoff, a 1977 graduate of Granite City High School North, and two members of the North graduating class of 1978 have been granted acceptance for admission to Robert Morris College of Carthage, Ill., for the 1978-79 academic year.

Miss Uzunoff has enrolled in the dental assisting program to begin in February. Lynn Carroll and Joan Fabisher have been accepted to classes beginning in July. Miss Carroll will be in the ten-month executive secretarial program and Miss Fabisher will study accounting.

Natalie Stoker, a 1976 graduate at North was among students who graduated earlier this year at Robert Morris College. She completed the medical assisting program and is employed at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, as a clinical lab assistant.

LOOT STATION WAGON

Items valued at more than $455 were stolen from the station wagon of Lee Turnbough, 2411 Missouri Ave., parked behind Turnbough's home between 9 p.m. Sunday and 6 p.m. Monday. A coat hanger or wire was believed used to unlock the door. Stolen were a combination radio and tape player, two speakers, a tool box and tools, a pair of jumper cables and a camera.

County records rise in births

Births in Madison County increased during September over those of the same month a year ago, but the number of deaths and marriages declined slightly, according to a vital statistics report released by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The report showed a total of 321 births during September, up 38 from 282 reported during September 1976.

Deaths totaled 157, down from 163 a year ago, and marriages numbered 226, down eight from 234 a year ago.

Births last month included one set of twins. Births in September included three sets of twins, the report said.

News notes

The Illinois Department of Agriculture is holding the hearing, and for more information, including copies of the proposed rule changes, Quad-Cityans may write: Warehouse Hearings, Director, IDA, State Fairgrounds, Springfield 62706. A hearing on changes in state regulations under the Insect Pest and Plant Disease Acts will be held Nov. 17, also in Springfield.

Rural landowners in Illinois may eventually save heating costs through windbreak plantings. Seedlings for such plantings will be offered for sale next spring by the Illinois Department of Conservation. Packets including 75 seedlings each — of white pine and autumn olive — and planting instructions will cost $10. The windbreak seedling program was adopted by the department following a "highly successful" six-county pilot program last spring.

Governor James R. Thompson sent a telegram to President Carter Oct. 13 urging the Administration to help settle the New Orleans longshoreman's strike. Thompson said the strike was "slowing the shipment of Midwest grain at a time when farmers are in the middle of a bumper harvest." He said that a long strike would "slow the stockpiling of coal and fuel oil needed to meet increased energy demand this winter." Thompson's telegram concluded: "Any delay in settling the strike will cause further economic hardship to Illinois and the Midwest and, because of export contract cancellations, will further erode our national balance o payments."

A series of Speak Out Sessions will be held in Illinois next month to solicit comments from individuals and groups regarding the needs of older persons in Illinois. Comments from the public on employment, retirement programs, health care, taxes and other matters as they relate to the elderly will be sought by state officials, including Josephine K. Oblinger, director of the Illinois Department on Aging, which is sponsoring the sessions.

The Illinois Department of Administrative Service and 12 other state departments have joined in a lease for a new television production unit intended to reduce the cost and expand and improve the information and education activities of state government. The new equipment will be operated by the Illinois Information Service and used by such departments as Agriculture, Conservation, Aging, Revenue, Law Enforcement, Environment, the State Lottery, State Fair and Transportation. Also, the offices of the governor and attorney general will use the new equipment and other state departments will be able to do so on a rental basis. Costs of the equipment will be shared by user agencies under the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act, according to DAS Director Theodore D. Puckorius.

Reading conference

The 13th annual reading conference at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 12, according to David E. Bear and Dartha F. Starr, co-chairmen of the event.

Keynote speaker will be Charlotte Huck, Ohio State University, Columbus. She will speak at 11:45 a.m. in Meridian Hall on "Educating the Heart and Imagination Through Literature."

Registration for the half-day meeting is scheduled for 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. Nov. 12 in the lobby of the University Center. The registration fee is $3, and no luncheon will be served.

Group sessions throughout the morning will concentrate on primary, intermediate, secondary and college levels of reading and teaching methods.

An exhibit of reading materials also will be available in the University Center.

Prof. Starr said that as many as 1,200 have attended previous conferences.

She said that although the sessions will be directed to teachers, tutors and reading specialists, she hopes any members of the community — interested in learning more about reading skills for themselves or their children — will attend.

The reading conference is being sponsored by the reading faculty of the department of elementary and early childhood education.

Prof. Starr said an announcement listing a number of topics for the group sessions will be mailed to all interested persons. They may write or call the SIUE Reading Center, 692-3596.

Court affirms broad role for Ill. attorney general

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott believes a new Illinois Supreme Court decision completes "a string of victories" in defending the principle that the attorney general serves the interests of the people of Illinois, as well as acting as the sole legal representative for state agencies.

Scott said the success in the Supreme Court cases will provide future attorneys general with "clearly-defined legal tools to work for the broad interests of the public, for decades to come."

Until these cases, it had been necessary to rely on a 1915 case and others relating to it for a definition of the scope of the Illinois attorney general's powers.

With the advent of greater activism on behalf of the public under Scott, numerous legal challenges were raised questioning the powers of the attorney general. In recent years, those challenges were posed by lawyers for the Walker administration, in the arena of environmental law.

Finally, in People ex rel Scott v. Briceland, the court ruled in December 1976 that the attorney general is the "sole legal officer of the state."

Now, in a case titled The Environmental Protection Agency v. The Pollution Control Board, the court in its written opinion officially recognized the attorney general's responsibility is not limited to serving or representing the particular interests of state agencies, including opposing state agencies, but embraces serving or representing the broader interests of the state.

"This responsibility will occasionally, if not frequently, include instances where state agencies are the opposing parties.

"It seems to us that if the attorney general is to have the unqualified role of chief legal officer of the state, he or she must be able to direct the legal affairs of the state and its agencies.

"Only in this way will the attorney general properly serve the state and the public interest.

"To allow the numerous state agencies the liberty to employ private counsel without the approval of the attorney general would be to invite chaos into the area of legal representation of the state."

The court also turned aside a tactical question that had been raised, based on the legal principle of "conflict of interest" when state agencies were in dispute.

The court ruled, "... It cannot be said that the role of the attorney general apropos of a state agency is precisely akin to the traditional role of private counsel apropos of a client.

"Indeed, where he or she is not an actual party, the attorney general may represent opposing state agencies in a dispute."

Time to get tough on the nations soft toward hijackers

Even the most radicalized and deranged airplane hijackers seem to have a practical streak, selecting as their destinations countries with a "track record" of softness toward such terrorists.

In our supposedly civilized and sophisticated world of 1977, with many responsible national governments in existence along with such groups as the United Nations, it is tragic that more severe hijacking restraints have not been devised.

All cheer this week's daring and successful rescue of airline passengers by a German anti-terrorist unit.

But it is long past time for nations, the UN, airlines and citizens to push for effective penalties against countries — of whatever ideology — that continue to protect hijackers from swift and sure punishment.

Once it became known that there was no sanctuary anywhere, the brutal hijacking phenomenon would decrease dramatically in scope.

Cost-cutting proposals well worth study by municipality

Cost-cutting methods proposed Tuesday night by various Granite City municipal department heads are a step in the right direction.

After all of the recommendations have been received, categorized and studied, it may be possible to select some of the topics for enactment of procedural revisions, leading to streamlining and economies.

Methods and costs sometimes "grow like Topsy" and can cause waste unless reviewed periodically.

It makes sense for city department leaders, the mayor and aldermen to discuss existing and proposed procedures — and to eliminate spending in all situations where it can be done without impairing vital services.

Many laws hold youngsters responsible for their actions

Guest comment by Illinois State Bar Association — A child may be criminally prosecuted in Illinois if he or she has reached age 13 at the time the offense is committed. The teenage offender may not realize the seriousness of his actions, but this fact has little bearing on the enforcement of penalties for behavior violating state laws.

Some offenses are not sufficiently serious to warrant criminal prosecution of the youthful offender. Curfew violations are an example. It is unlawful for youths aged 16 or less to be present on public streets or in public places after 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, or after 12:01 Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Municipalities authorized to enact local police laws may adopt more stringent time requirements. A violation is punishable only by a fine, ranging from $10 to $100. Exceptions to curfew law enforcement include persons legitimately employed in the after-hour period, and persons accompanied and supervised by a parent, legal guardian or a responsible companion at least 18 years old and approved by the parent or legal guardian.

Motor vehicle offenses involve a broad range of penalties. Moving violations, such as speeding and failure to yield the right of way, are punishable by a maximum 30-day sentence and a maximum $500 fine. Three such violations within a one-year period may result in license suspension.

Drag racing and reckless driving are punishable by a maximum six-month imprisonment and $500 fine. Three reckless driving citations within 12 months, or a single drag racing arrest, automatically result in license suspension.

Driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident both result in imprisonment of not less than one day nor more than one year, a maximum fine of $1,000, and automatic license suspension. Driving with an invalid license and driving without being issued a license are punishable by not less than seven days nor more than one year in detention and a maximum $1,000 fine.

Automobile theft is punishable on two separate grounds. Theft of any property having a value greater than $150 carries a one to ten year sentence and a maximum $10,000 fine. Possession or concealment of a stolen vehicle — regardless of its value — is punishable by a one-to-three-year term of imprisonment and a maximum $10,000 fine.

Teenage liquor consumption may also involve penalties. Nineteen-year-olds may legally consume beer and wine in Illinois.

Attempts by under aged persons to purchase liquor with a falsified identification card result in a maximum six-month imprisonment and a maximum $500 fine. Possession of liquor in a public place by an underaged person carries a like penalty.

Possessing alcohol while making delivery of the spirits pursuant to parental orders or pursuant to valid employment is not a violation. Consumption of liquor by under-aged individuals, and possession by under-aged persons in non-public places, are both punishable by not more than 30 days in prison and not more than $500 fine.

Any consumption with direct parental supervision and approval, in the privacy of the home, is not punishable. Consumption in the normal course of a religious ceremony is similarly allowed.

Penalties for vandalism and shoplifting vary according to the value of the property damage or theft. As to vandalism, property damage of less than $150 results in a minimum one-day, maximum one-year sentence, and a maximum $1,000 fine. If the property damage is greater than $150, the penalty is one to three years in prison and a maximum $10,000 fine.

Shoplifting of goods valued at less than $150 carries the same penalty as vandalism of less than $150. A second shoplifting offense of goods valued at less than $150 entails a one-to-three-year term of detention and a maximum $10,000 fine. Shoplifting goods valued at greater than $150 carries a sentence of one to ten years in prison, with a maximum fine of $10,000.

Young people need to be cautioned that they can be held responsible for their actions when laws are broken. What may seem to be a harmless, child-like prank may indeed be child-like but not so harmless.

Arrest and prosecution for such actions can follow a person throughout his or her life, and can have serious impact on the opportunities available for education and career.

Gateway leader two years backs regional data, local solutions

(East-West Directions, a Publication of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council)

The office of the chairman of the Madison County Board sits neatly on the first floor of the marble Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville. Nelson Hagnauer, the man who occupies the office, is also the chairman of Gateway's board of directors.

As Hagnauer sat at his desk in the comfortably furnished office surrounded by the United States flag on his right, the flag of the state of Illinois on his left, and a small cast iron statue of the symbol of the Democratic party—the donkey—before him, he reflected on his two-year tenure as Gateway Board chairman.

"The Port of Metropolitan St. Louis study is among the most significant accomplishments of my term," he said. Other major projects he listed were the transportation improvements program, the study of the region's bridges, and addressing the region's solid waste problems.

He is also pleased that citizen input is being more actively recruited into the planning process.

"For a long time, planning was carried on in a sterile environment without soliciting the opinions of the citizens, when it is they who are most affected.

"I'm happy that citizens are being made responsible in planning," he said.

He believes that more active citizen involvement will dispel some of the mystery and suspicion which has come to surround regionalism.

Hagnauer said that Madison County can best serve the region by developing the Tri-City Regional Port District, which is now trying to acquire property in Granite City for expansion of its facilities.

"The City of St. Louis is the hub of our region and development of the Port both regionally and locally, has a variety of implications," he said.

"Industry, and consequently jobs, will result from development of the Port; and employment is of major concern to us all."

Hagnauer, at the time of his inauguration as Gateway board chairman in 1975, said that he favored regional approaches to problem-solving "so long as it doesn't take anything away from the local officeholders." He still holds that conviction.

"Yes, some elected officials are apprehensive of the regional approach, and it's a legitimate concern," he said.

"Although many municipalities may experience common problems, the best solutions are not always from a regional approach.

"There is still a great deal of confusion surrounding the concept of regionalism," he said.

"There is a definite need for agencies such as Gateway because — when problems or plans which involve multi-jurisdictional boundaries present themselves — regional agencies provide all involved parties a forum for discussion and resolution of problems.

"Regional agencies also have resources on which they can draw, that smaller local governments don't always have."

Concern in state -product liability

By W. PAUL NEAL JR.
Manager, Legislative Department
Illinois State
Chamber of Commerce

Product liability insurance problems are beginning to lead the list of emerging business concerns throughout the nation, and Illinois employers are sadly finding themselves part of this expensive and complicated crisis.

Product liability insurance — the coverage a manufacturer, wholesaler, distributor or retailer carries against loss or injury claims due to products made or sold — has skyrocketed in cost to the point where an increasing number of firms can't find coverage at affordable rates.

Many others have had their insurance cancelled, and find reinsurance difficult and costly to obtain.

And the number and dollar amount of product liability claims have jumped dramatically in recent years.

The Insurance Services Offices, a national insurance rating and advisory organization, reports that from 1969 to 1973 — the most recent year for which statistics are available — the number of product liability claims increased 26 per cent.

A 1976 study by the Risk and Insurance Management Society, an organization of corporate purchasers of insurance, found that claims against their members increased 400 per cent in five years.

In addition to an increasing number of claims, the size of damages awarded has climbed considerably.

In Cook County, the average product liability award increased from $93,143 in 1970 to $144,091 in 1975 — a rise of 65 per cent.

The Journal of American Insurance reports that insurance premiums went up 154 per cent from 1969 to 1973 and that insurance losses increased 279 per cent during that same period.

The increasing concern of the business community over this burgeoning cost of doing business has sparked study and recognition of the problem by private group and public agencies.

In 1976, the U.S. Department of Commerce surveyed 140 trade associations, manufacturers and distributors and concluded that the "... product liability insurance problem ... is extensive and increasing" and that "many industries are experiencing difficulty in obtaining product liability insurance.

"The problem is especially acute in the case of small businesses.

"Industry sectors that have been severely affected include machine tools, industrial chemicals, pharmaceuticals, general aviation, and many sectors of capital equipment."

Hearings on product liability have been held by the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

State legislatures in Kansas, Massachusetts, Florida, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and other states have seen legislation introduced or proposed on the subject.

On the federal level, Senate Bill 403 introduced by Senator James B. Pearson (R-Kan.), would create a new federal administrative agency on product liability insurance.

Senate Bill 527, introduced by Senators John C. Culver (D-Iowa) and Gaylord Nelson (D-Wisc.), would authorize the Small Business Administration to furnish federal reinsurance to small businesses which cannot obtain coverage at affordable rates.

According to Sen. Culver, the bill would furnish a short-term remedy to the problem; "It is intended to buy time while a sound long-term solution is sought."

Two bills on product liability introduced into the Illinois General Assembly have been drafted by joint efforts of business groups.

S.475, introduced by Senator Bradley M. Glass (R-Northbrook) and others, and H.1333, sponsored by Representative Lee Daniels (R-Elmhurst) and others, have been studied by the Senate Judiciary Committee and by a special committee of the House Judiciary Committee this summer.

Additional drafts of these and other bills on product liability may be forthcoming when these committees develop their recommendations for the legislature in 1978.

The Illinois State Chamber is cooperating with the National Product Liability Council to propose a "sound long-term solution" which would not replace the tort law system with another type of compensation system.

Limited changes focusing on product liability would be sufficient to bring the existing tort law system into balance with the product liability protection needs of the Illinois business community.

Both federal and state laws which would include the following features need to be enacted:

1. Statute of limitation and repose.
2. Compliance with a government standard as a defense.
3. State of the art defense.
4. Duty to warn.
5. Misuse or product alteration or change.
6. Modification of theory of liability for design defects.

In the course of correcting defects in the product liability law system, additional subjects may need to be addressed at the state or federal levels — such as collateral source benefits, improper pre-trial agreements, periodic payments and punitive damages.

Inept strategy from the 'back room'

To the Editor:

Mr. Kelahan's rhetoric (Oct. 10 letter, "Non-street officials receive the blame for bad streets") might have been more persuasive had he eliminated the following paragraph:

"The position of superintendent of streets should be handled no differently than any of the other responsible city positions filled by appointment by the mayor and consented to by action of the City Council. The Council gets its orders directly from the people."

I'm so glad he mentions that. He appears to have totally missed the point as to what it was about between the outs and ins.

The five lame duck councilmen seated on the Council floor on April 26 we can discount. They already had their orders from the people — which was that they were to be out by May 3.

Any lack of rapport between themselves and the present superintendent was something they no longer needed to worry about.

The remaining six aldermen who participated in this back room ordinance took no orders from the people, or the ordinance would have been rescinded and tossed in the garbage pail on May 3, where it should have been prior to April 26.

And there would have been no necessity for a costly election.

But it appears these men decided they were smarter than the people they supposedly answer to — in fact, so much smarter, they scarcely answered at all, although given ample opportunity to do the same between May 3 and Oct. 4.

Mr. Dallas (one of the lame ducks) did state that once he backed Mr. Portell for an election, and then Mr. Portell didn't back him, and that was his reason for voting to abolish the superintendent of streets as an elective office.

Mr. Dallas, thank heavens, did't clutter his answer with any hypocrisy that it was in the best interests of the people.

Glen Sprankle, alderman of the 4th Ward, made a statement that he "thought it was a good idea (he didn't mention why), but the timing was bad."

He failed to mention it was the only possible "timing" left, because it would be as impossible on May 3 to pass the ordinance as that group assumed it would be to rescind it after May 3, as long as the six remaining aldermen who participated in the original decision refused to budge their position.

Roy Poulos, alderman of the 3rd Ward, when confronted May 3 by a woman voter who had supported him and voted for his re-election, and asked why he voted as he did, stated in the presence of other witnesses, "Lady, four years from now, you may vote as you please — but for the next four years, I vote as I please."

That's telling it like it is!

If any of the remaining originators of the ordinance had anything to say to defend their position, they carefully refrained from doing so. But with defenses like that, who needed answers, anyway?

Alderman Ron Coleman deserves honorable mention. He was a lame duck who participated on April 26.

He had ample opportunity to see the error of his ways before being appointed by Mayor Schuler to fill the aldermanic seat vacated by Emerald Dawes, who was appointed city inspector.

Mr. Coleman was again given the opportunity to vote on this issue and did about what was expected — he stuck to his original vote.

Considering I voted for Mr. Coleman last April, I shan't be guilty of his crime. I won't make the same mistake twice.

Review the list: Aldermen Roy Poulos, Earl Baker, Ron Coleman, Gerald Parmley, Emerald Dawes, Glen Sprankle, Clyde Boyd.

If they took their orders directly from the people, the wards they represent were surely being represented by a group of deaf mutes.

Mr. Kelahan further states that the Council and the mayor must take the rap from the people about this, that and the other, and shouldn't have to wait for an election to remedy irresponsibility if it occurs.

I don't know why they shouldn't have to wait, any more than the voters have to wait.

We have a $15,900 per year appointed city employe who has repeatedly been observed spending a great deal of his working day with his car parked in front of City Hall (where he doesn't work) and far less of the other time on his job.

The only apparent remedy for getting rid of this sort of employe is to wait for an election in order to get rid of the man who appoints him and tolerates this sort of attitude toward the employe's job.

Let's face it — the appointive system and the elective system both have their drawbacks.

As to percentages, Mr. Kelahan should have researched them further.

I once heard a teacher discussing the fact that of the eligible voters of the United States, probably only 50 per cent of them registered. And of the 50 per cent who did register, approximately 50 per cent of them voted.

This brings us to 25 per cent of the eligible voters deciding who shall run the United States. The teacher further stated, "If you asked the voters to go out tomorrow and vote as to whether or not to allow the world to end next week, you probably still couldn't get more than 25 per cent of the eligible voters to vote on it."

Does this mean this 75 per cent — the "silent majority" — wanted the world to end, or didn't care one way or the other? I don't believe that, any more than Mr. Kelahan does.

I believe the "silent majority" sat home, remembering each and every one had only one vote to give, and said to themselves, "I haven't time today" or "What's one vote more or less?" or "My vote doesn't really count."

That's the way it is, whether it's the United States or just Granite City, Ill.

And I firmly believe "the boys in the back room" thought that's the way it could be. That they could depend on an initial uproar, merely fasten their seat belts and wait. And that people would do what people normally do — finally settle down and do nothing about it.

Mr. Kelahan should give credit where credit is due. How often in Granite City history have 50 people landed in front of City Hall as they did on April 27 to protest this ordinance?

How often in Granite City history have 250 people landed at a Council meeting as a further protest, as they did on May 3? How often in Granite City history have 8,000 names appeared on petitions, demanding a referendum?

And speaking of percentages — how often in Granite City history have 5,000 voters appeared at the polls on a single, solitary issue? You're lucky to get 10 per cent of the voters to show up at the polls to prevent an increase in taxes!

Speaking of taxes — how often have the voters knocked even a tax increase in the head by an overwhelming vote of 10 to 1?

I am glad Mr. Kelahan was among the two per cent who went to the polls and voted "no" but he shouldn't belittle what happened.

Granite City made history not only in its own books, but in the Illinois law books.

How much better that 23 per cent of the registered voters decided the issue, than to leave the decision in the hands of six aldermen and the boys in the back room.

I like some of the people I have discussed adversely. Others I don't know other than by sight, but I like the statement one of the participants of the April 26 blunder has been quoted as saying: "We have committed political suicide."

Gentlemen, I certainly hope so.

I am one of the believers in the "right to vote" — no matter what Mr. Kelahan calls us.

WOMAN RESIDENT

Staff shows dedication to community

To the Editor:

I feel compelled to acknowledge and commend the owner and the employes of The Razor's Edge barber shop for extending two forms of service to our community Monday.

In addition to receiving my usual styled haircut, I had the satisfaction of knowing that all the proceeds of the day would be donated to the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

It was truly a warm feeling to see the staff of The Razor's Edge show their commitment to our community by donating their time and services, on what should have been their day off, to such a worthy cause as the United Way.

Such an endeavor surely must have involved the consideration and cooperation of many, and for fear of leaving someone out, I will commend all involved. They provided a fine service to me and, most of all, to our community.

Skilled ambulance-hospital teamwork

To the Editor:

My husband recently was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City after several major surgeries, followed by the complications of pneumonia, a stroke and blood clots.

Throughout his stay at the hospital, everyone we came in contact with used his or her training and skill in working earnestly and steadily in helping to save his life and to be of help to our family.

I am grateful to the city aldermen of Granite City for adopting our new paramedic division of the fire department.

Those young men worked diligently and efficiently to keep my husband from going into shock from hemorrhaging, and worked with the hospital Emergency Room staff from the moment they entered our home.

I would take time to write if I had a gripe of any kind, so I felt it only right that I take the time to write to give praise where it feel it is deserved.

There are an awful lot of good people in this area who really do care about one another.

Worldwide impact from instant tea plant here

LABORATORY ANALYSIS of teas sent to the Nestle plant in Granite City for processing is explained by Dick Atkins, right, in charge of quality control. The cups of tea on the table at right have been taken from sample boxes. The samples are tested and the tea is either approved or sent back to the supplier if it does not meet the strict standards of the company. (Press-Record Photo)

WALLS OF TEA. Quad-City teachers on a tour of the Nestle Co., Inc., plant here walk by walls of boxes of tea shipped to the plant from around the world. The boxes each weigh approximately 120 pounds and are stored in the plant's 60,000-square-foot warehouse facility. At right is George Sterling, assistant superintendent of manufacturing. The plant produces nearly two-thirds of all instant tea manufactured in the world. (Press-Record Photo)

Flameproof, easily seen Halloween attire is urged

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

"O suns and skies and clouds of June,
"And flowers of June together,
"Ye cannot rival for one hour
"October's bright blue weather."

Helen Hunt Jackson, who wrote these words a century ago, obviously felt as many of us do that October is one of the loveliest months of the year.

For most children, the month is climaxed on its last day — Halloween. In all the excitement, however, it is sometimes easy for children and parents to overlook simple safety precautions that can protect youngsters from harm.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has compiled a list of Halloween "do's" and "dont's" that may help avert tragedy.

First, costumes. Whether they are bought or homemade, be sure they are fire resistant.

Look for "Flameproof" labels when purchasing costumes, masks, beards or wigs. Avoid costumes made of flimsy materials and outfits with big baggy sleeves or billowing skirts.

It's easy for a child to brush against a candle or other flame and set fire to the big sleeves or billowing skirt.

Also, costumes should be short enough that children won't trip on them, and light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists on dimly lighted streets. Children can carry flashlights . . . or reflective tape can be sewn on their costumes.

Masks and other disguises should not restrict vision or breathing. Plastic bags over faces can cause suffocation. The safest mask is a natural one made of cosmetics or charcoal applied directly to the skin.

Another precaution is to be sure candle-lighted jack-o-lanterns are not set on doorsteps or other places where children may brush against them. Do not let children carry candles or other open flame, even inside a pumpkin.

A responsible older person should accompany young trick-or-treaters, and keep them constantly in sight.

Before children go out on Halloween, caution them against running across lawns or backyards where they might trip or fall in the darkness. Also caution them against dashing into streets from between parked cars, and against eating the treats they collect until the candy, apples and other "goodies" have been carefully examined by an adult.

In recent years, there have been incidents of real-life "monsters" placing hazardous substances in treats.

Finally, if driving your car on Halloween, take special care to watch out for the young ghosts and goblins. They may be too excited to watch out for you.

The state health department feels that, if all these precautions are followed, Halloween can be an evening of fun and not end in tragedy.

Messenger system and tool storage proposed

Robert W. Stevens, city clerk, Tuesday night proposed the following ways to cut Granite City municipal costs:

1. "Provide a central supply storage room to store items which could be bought at a lower cost through quantity discounts.

2. "Establish internal mail and messenger system within the City Hall and contact with the various departments.

"This would reduce the number of employes making individual trips to and from offices and departments, thus resulting in more efficient use of employes' time.

3. "Provide a tool crib in departments where tools are provided for employes' use. Tools would be checked out and in on an assigned basis, thereby keeping account of the tools that we have and eliminating costly replacements.

4. "Payment of bills on the 10th and 25th of the month instead of three times per month to conserve cost and invest longer in certificates of deposit.

5. "To relieve burden on payroll desk, we would prepare information for checks and establish a system for payroll whereby checks would be done by an outside service, which would keep data for W-2 forms and also prepare them.

"This would free time on the accounting machine. For a nominal fee, this could be done. It was presented to a previous committee but has not been implemented as yet."

Elks to aid handicapped

The Granite City Elks Lodge, in cooperation with the Illinois Elks Crippled Children's Commission, will sponsor a free diagnostic clinic for physically handicapped children on Tuesday, Oct. 25, from noon until 3 p.m.

George Grimm, chairman of the local Elks Lodge committee, said the general public is invited to participate in the clinic, which will be held at the Elks Club, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.

Children from newborn to 21 years of age with orthopedic problems, including those who have been examined at previous clinics and those physically handicapped in any way, are invited to attend for evaluation.

Each child or young person should be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Family physicians are being encouraged to send patients they feel might benefit from this service, as well as patients who are needing physical therapy, Grimm said.

School nurses, likewise, are being urged to refer any handicapped child they have contact with to the evaluation clinic, as also are lodge members.

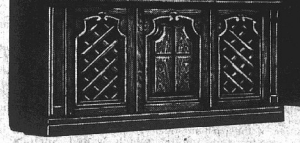

The Elks of Illinois are sponsoring clinics in 62 lodge areas with 80 clinics being held this year.

The free diagnostic program was initiated by the Elks 49 years ago.

Elks members have provided medical care, operations, hospital care, prosthesis and physical therapy for hundreds of youngsters during most of the 49-year period, Grimm said.

There is no charge for any of the services rendered at the clinic, the chairman stressed.

HURTS NECK, HEAD

B. G. "Bud" Bryan, 43, of 70 Janine Court, was injured in an auto accident last week and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pain to his head, neck and shoulders. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Man robbed at knifepoint

A young man with a knife robbed Jerry Demoullin, 2901 Madison Ave., of $200 cash at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the rear parking lot at Millie & Mickey's Tavern, 18th and State Streets.

Demoullin said he left the tavern and the young man followed him to the parking lot, grabbed him and demanded his money.

After the victim gave him the $200, the robber pushed Demoullin to the ground, showed a small pocket knife and said, "I'll kill you. I'll kill you."

He then left west on 18th Street.

During the robbery, Demoullin's glasses were knocked off and he sustained a small cut to his nose.

He described the robber as about 25 years old, weighing about 170 pounds, about 5 feet, 8 inches tall and having light red hair.

Hits parked cars, driver charged

Lonnie Clark, 2914 Buxton Ave., was charged with careless driving after his auto swerved off Nameoki Road into the south parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant, striking two parked vehicles and narrowly missing two pedestrians at 12:50 p.m. Monday, according to official reports.

Clark said his auto went out of control after swerving for another auto which changed lanes in front of his car.

Two women on the sidewalk were not struck, but fell and struck their heads on the concrete. Lydia Brase, 69, and Elfrieda Brase, 70, both of 2640 E. 28th St., did not require hospital treatment.

Parked vehicles damaged were a van belonging to Haskell "Buck" Pyatt, the restaurant's maitre d', and the car of Edward Knobbe, 2 Frontenac Lane.

Clark sustained a cut on an arm and injured his right leg, but declined to be taken to the hospital.

Two hurt in crash

two young men were injured when their pickup truck struck a utility pole on Rock Road, one-quarter mile south of Bauer Road, during the weekend.

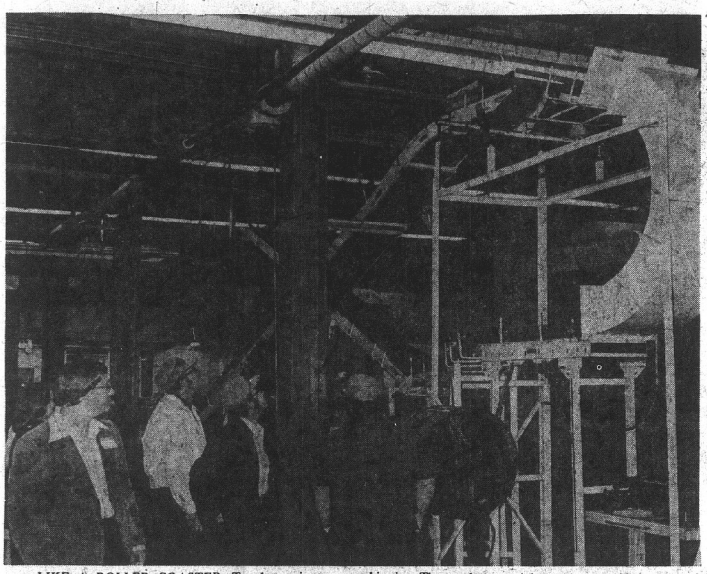

Louis Cottrell, 24, of 2309 Independence Drive, the driver, was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident. He said he was attempting to kill a large "Black Widow" spider on the driver's seat when he looked up and saw the pole, too late to avoid striking it.

Cottrell and a passenger in the truck, Robert Wayne Rippy, 23, of 2315 Independence Drive, were taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where Rippy was admitted for observation of a head injury. He also suffered abrasions to his forehead and left wrist.

Cottrell was treated for a cut inside his top lip and for injuries to his left elbow and chest. X-rays were taken and he was released.

DISLOCATED HIP

Michael Johnson, 21, of 823 Twenty-eighth St., sustained a dislocated left hip in a motorcycle accident near Edwardsville last week and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Regional energy committee formed

A new organization to bring energy-related research and development funds into the St. Louis region and the states of Missouri and Illinois has been formed by the Technical Advisory Committee of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, it was announced Tuesday by RCGA Chairman Armand C. Stalnaker.

The Regional Energy Committee, made up of representatives of universities and businesses with an interest in energy research and development, will seek to pool the talents of both groups to attract larger energy-related research and development contracts to the bi-state region.

By fostering communications between academic institutions and industries, the REC hopes to expand the base of energy-related knowledge within the area, to improve the transfer of energy technology from universities to industries, and to increase opportunities for joint participation in projects.

Initial members of the committee are the University of Missouri's four branches in St. Louis, Columbia, Rolla and Kansas City; Washington University; St. Louis University; Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; Emerson Electric Co.; Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corp.; McDonnell Douglas Corp.; Monsanto Co.; Sverdrup Corp.; Union Electric Co.; Olin Corp. and Laclede Gas Co.

Others indicating interest in joining are Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Peabody Coal Co. and General Dynamics Corp.

Financing for the committee will be shared equally between member educational institutions and the RCGA: A fulltime director will report on committee activities to the REC executive committee and to Arthur G. Baebler, general manager of RCGA, on administrative matters.

"Our first concern is to hire a director," said Dr. James McKelvey, dean of the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences at Washington University and chairman of the selection committee. "We hope to have the individual on duty by Jan. 1.

"We want someone who can find out what energy-related resources — both personnel and hardware — are available at participating universities and companies, and someone who can develop and maintain contacts with government and other energy-research funding organizations.

"The director will help organize and coordinate efforts by member or supporting institutions and companies to put together proposals that will attract energy grants."

The bi-state region is considered by the group to be ideally situated for producing research, development, demonstration and commercialization projects in the energy field, Baebler said, because of its strong business-industrial base, its energy-producing companies and its research-oriented institutions.

"We hope this committee can be effective at facilitating the cooperation of the academic and business community in obtaining funds for projects that will help solve the nation's energy problems," he said.

"We know we have the talent and facilities here. The committee hopes to supply the coordination and direction needed to put those talents and facilities to work. Our long-range objective is to achieve recognition for this area and establish its reputation as a center for energy research and development."

Firemen helping to limit expenditures

Granite City Fire Chief Donald Parente on Tuesday evening reviewed the department's cost-cutting operations:

"We purchased an air compressor to fill our MSA masks ourselves and saved buying breathing air at a cost of approximately $500 per year.

"A washer and dryer were purchased and we also bought towels. This was a saving of about $60 a month that we were paying for towel rental.

"We are in the process of stripping and sealing the floors at the main station on a five-year basis, at a saving of about $500.

"Opticom equipment is being installed on all our equipment by our own firemen. This saves the service calls from a local contractor.

"We will be cleaning all opticom detectors at our 18 intersections instead of having the electrical contractor charge us. This maintenance program has to be done every three to four months.

"Major repair work on our equipment is done by Mullens Equipment Co. He specializes in fire truck repair and usually is available in an emergency. I tried using the city mechanics for repair work but they did not have time to work on our trucks.

"When one of our trucks is out of service, it has to be repaired as soon as possible. Example — valve job on a 1963 Ford pumper — city mechanics worked on the truck whenever they didn't have other work and the truck was out of service for two months.

"Truck tires on our equipment will dry rot before they wear out. I have suggested and discussed with tire dealers and the superintendent of streets the possibility of the Street Department using our tires to get maximum wear, and new tires purchased for the Street Department be put on fire trucks.

"Economy measures are initiated as soon as we are made aware of the situation."

New lake will have diverse recreation

Illinois Power Company and the Department of Conservation have announced a cooperative arrangement to develop and manage a multi-million-dollar outdoor recreation area focused around the cooling lake for the Clinton Power Station in DeWitt County not far from Bloomington, Champaign and Decatur.

The recreation area — which will encompass 12,000 acres, including the 5,000-acre lake — will provide opportunities for camping, hiking, fishing, hunting, picnicking, sailing, powerboating, water skiing, swimming and wildlife viewing.

Illinois Power will finance construction of the recreation facilities on the company's land at an approximate cost of $4.3 million over four or more years.

The Illinois Conservation Department will manage most of the facilities at approximate operating costs of $254,000 in fiscal year 1979; $289,000 in 1980, and $254,000 in subsequent years.

"We commend Illinois Power for providing such a significant public recreation facility at the company's expense," Conservation Director David Kenney says.

"This kind of arrangement — in which the private sector makes lands available for public use — provides recreation without taking any of the area off tax rolls. The public benefits in every way."

Initial Clinton Lake facilities are expected to be opened for public use between October 1978 and May 1979.

The first nuclear generating unit at the station is scheduled for late 1981 operation.

Recreation facilities to be constructed will include: a marina complex consisting of boat ramps, overnight boat docking and storage areas, food and bait concessions, a boat repair-service concession, and an information booth; a swimming beach with bathhouse and picnic sites; six picnic areas.

Also, several boat launching ramps; 29 miles of hiking trails; six campgrounds, some with swimming beaches, overnight boat docking areas, and fish cleaning stations; a wildlife viewing platform; hunter check stations; and sanitary and service facilities.

The marina complex and one of the six campgrounds will be managed as concessions by Illinois Power. The company also will operate its information center. The other facilities will be managed by the Conservation Department.

According to the Clinton Lake master management plan developed by the Conservation Department, the area will be divided into three land use zones — recreational, natural resources and administrative.

Most of the high-intensity activities, such as large-scale camping and picnicking, will take place in the recreation zone.

The natural resource zone, while it will include such facilities, will be primarily for hiking, hunting, wildlife viewing, and fishing, plus fishery and wildlife management activities. The administrative zone will include land necessary to support the power generating facility.

The Conservation Department's fish stocking program will include the introduction of largemouth bass, crappie, northern pike, white bass, walleye, channel cat, bluegill, redear, sunfish, tiger muskie and flathead catfish.

Clinton Lake will be formed by damming Salt Creek north of Illinois Route 10, below the confluence of the North Fork of Salt Creek and Salt Creek.

The lake will form two arms — one extending approximately seven miles along the North Fork and the other running northwest from the dam about 13 miles along Salt Creek.

Vadalabene 'MC' for dance to aid crippled children

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene of this district will serve as master-of-ceremonies for the annual benefit ball of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children on Friday, Nov. 11.

Arrangements for Sen. Vadalabene's participation were announced by Mrs. Lily Chaboude, president of the organization.

The dinner dance will be held at the Croatian Home, Tenth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Tickets costing $5 per person are being sold at Michel's Jewelry and State Radio & Television, and also are available from members of the crippled children's group.

The Four Seasons will provide dance music during the evening. An attendance of 300 is expected and will be limited to that total.

Introductions and gifts will be announced by Sen. Vadalabene, who has been active for many years in programs to aid crippled children.

A full-time senator, Vadalabene has been one of the most active Illinois lawmakers in recent years.

Many laws are attributed to either his sponsorship or his persuasive skills in amassing General Assembly backing.

He has held the senate post since 1970, after previously serving two terms in the Illinois House of Representatives.

"Whether seeking safer rail crossings, more assistance to education, safer and more convenient roads and bikeways, expansion of the docking and warehouse facilities of the Tri-City Port District or more jobs and economic improvement, I have tried in every way possible to prove that Sen. Sam stands for service," he comments.

Sen. Vadalabene serves as chairman of the Executive Administration and Appointments Committee.

He is a member of the committees on: Appropriations; Pensions, Personnel and Veterans Affairs; and Transportation.

He also is a member of the Agricultural Export Advisory Committee and the Legislative Audit Commission. On the Illinois Bicentennial Commission, he served as vice-chairman.

Vadalabene has been the chairman of the Cities and Villages Municipal Problems Commission.

A member of the Bi-State Development District and Bi-State Development Agency Visitation Commission, he has been chairman of the Legislative Advisory Commission of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, and assistant to the vice-chairman of the Motor Vehicle Laws Study Commission.

Vadalabene formerly served as an Edwardsville Township auditor and also served on the staffs of former State Auditor Michael J. Howlett and former State Superintendent of Public Instruction George T. Wilkins Sr.

A member of the Illinois Youth Commission neighborhood services program, he also is a former member of the Edwardsville Park and Recreation Board and supervised that board's summer recreation recreation program for four years.

He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Moose Lodge, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and was named an honorary life member of the Edwardsville Kiwanis.

The Vadalabene Park recreation and baseball-softball playing area in Edwardsville is named in honor of the senator, who led the effort to develop it into its present state.

Sen. Vadalabene also has served as chairman of the Madison County Heart Association fund drive and has been active in the Madison County Chapter of the March of Dimes and the Sabin Oral Vaccine Administration Committee in Madison County.

SEN. SAM VADALABENE

Born in Detroit in 1914, he attended St. Boniface School in Edwardsville.

He completed his elementary education at Sacred Heart School in Pana and graduated from Pana Township High School.

He married the former Mary Lesko and they have raised five children in the Edwardsville community.

Croatian and Polish classes

Two foreign language courses, Conversational Serbo-Croatian and conversational Polish, will be offered by the Office of Conferences and Institutes (692-2660) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall, starting tonight.

Throughout the two five-week courses, basic elements of pronunciation will be reviewed in conjunction with use of common phrases that can be utilized in everyday situations.

Unlimited use of the language laboratory will be available to those who wish additional practice in pronunciation.

Darinka Arandjelovic will be the instructor for the Conversational Serbo-Croatian course. Michael Astour will teach Conversational Polish.

Each class will meet on Thursdays, beginning tonight from 7 until 9 o'clock. Fee for each workshop is $15.

Gwen Harris will direct first play of new season

The curtain is rising on the 1977-78 production schedule of the University Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The student actors, stagehands and production crew await their cues.

Handbills, waiting to be distributed, reveal a varied list of theatrical offerings this fall, including one of Moliere's funniest plays, a ritualistic myth, a pulsating musical, and a romantic farce, not to overlook two dance concerts.

Opening the season will be Moliere's "The Miser." Under the direction of Gwen Harris, a graduate student from Granite City, this new version — which has been set in the silent film era — is said to abound in zany, rollicking laughter.

"The Miser" will open Thursday, Nov. 3, at 8:15 p.m., with other performances Nov. 4 and 5 at 8:15 p.m. The student production will close with a matinee performance Nov. 6 at 2:30 p.m.

Second production of the season will be "Oedipus." Dates for this production, adapted by Ted Hughes, will be Nov. 17, 18 and 19 at 8:15 p.m.

An evening of dance works, choreographed by the SIUE department of dance faculty and performed by a company of students and faculty, will play Dec. 8, 9 and 10 at 8:15 p.m. The annual event, "Dance: In Concert," will premiere several new works, including some with live accompaniment.

"Cabaret," a taut, pulsating musical set in the decadence and terror of Berlin during the late 1920s, will be this year's musical. Under the direction of Al Wiltz III, director of dance at SIUE, the widely-acclaimed musical won the 1967 New York Drama Critics' Award and the Tony Award for best musical.

Performance dates for "Cabaret" are Feb. 22, 23, 24 and 25 at 8:15 p.m. A special benefit performance will be given Feb. 26 at 2:30 p.m.

"Opus '78," an evening of dance works choreographed by SIUE students majoring in dance, will run April 27 and 28. Curtain time will be 8:15 p.m.

Closing the season will be Thornton Wilder's romantic farce of young and not-so-young lovers, "The Matchmaker." The theater's base for the subsequent successful musical, "Hello Dolly," this offering will be just in time for spring and is intended for "those who still believe in the need for adventure."

Under the direction of Lynn Kluth, professor of theater and dance, "The Matchmaker" will run June 1, 2 and 3 at 8:15 p.m. and June 4 at 2:30 p.m.

All performances, except for "Oedipus," will be presented in the Communications Building theater. "Oedipus" performances will be in Room 2007 of the Communications Building. Convenient parking is nearby, a spokesman reports.

Ticket prices for the 1977-78 season will be: SIUE students free, except for "Cabaret" (admission to this play for students will be $1); adults, $2; high school students, $1; children under 12, 50 cents, and senior citizens, $1.50.

Dinner theater for all shows will be available by contacting the University Club restaurant. Quad-Cityans may obtain additional information on tickets and performances by telephoning 692-2320.

'Spooks' to tour area

"Ghosts and gobblins" will tour Quad-City streets Saturday afternoon as a motorized column of "Halloween creatures" drives through the area between Venice and Pontoon Beach.

Members of the area's three Explorer Scout Posts of Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach will meet at 2 p.m. at the Venice police station.

The column will proceed north on Broadway and Madison Avenue to 19th Street, west on 19th to Niedringhaus Avenue and back on Niedringhaus to Madison where the column will continue north on Madison, turning left at Nameoki Road to Pontoon Road and north on Pontoon to the Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center.

Purpose of the parade is to advertise the opening on Wednesday, Oct. 26, of the young men's three Halloween attractions.

A "Haunted Castle" again will be located at 1316 Madison Ave. and Count Dracula Jr. with some "surprise friends" will be in residence. This is the fifth year for Explorer Post 10-4's attraction.

In the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Granite City Police Post 10-33 will operate a "Haunted Casket" for everyone to go into, and hopefully come out of, a spokesman said.

Explorer Scouts from the Pontoon Beach police-sponsored Post 255, will operate a "Haunted House" at 4101 Kaseberg Lane, behind the Long Lake fire station.

All three of the Explorer Scout Halloween attractions will charge 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

The police Explorers are young men and women interested in law enforcement careers.

The Halloween attractions are the youths' major fund-raising projects to support their activities.

Central supply system, car trade-ins suggested

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veitzer on Tuesday night suggested methods to cut costs in operation of the Police Department:

1. "Standardize stationery for all city offices and purchase large quantities for a better price breakdown.

2. "Establish a central supply system for everyday items such as: paper goods, paper clips, rubber bands, typewriter ribbons, pens, pencils, scratch pads, legal pads, etc., with a voucher system to be credited to individual departments quarterly for budget management.

3. "Purchase of a radar-range microwave oven and a small refrigerator-freezer to be used for storage and preparation of prisoner's meals (frozen TV dinners).

"These meals should then run under $1 apiece as compared to $2 to $2.50 that we are now paying. It is suggested that this not be done until the move into the new police facility, and this has been suggested to the architect.

4. "Upon moving to the new police facility, it is my recommendation that the payment of parking fines be put in the city treasurer's office due to the central location downtown.

"The Police Department would supply enforcement on the meters and the collection. The tickets would be forwarded daily to the treasurer's office and the collectoin could be taken there by the officers and turned over to the treasurer, as is done now.

"This would free the clerk in the Police Department to work in the records room of the new facility and still take care of the secretarial work for the Patrol and Service Divisions.

5. "A system of semi-annual trade-in on patrol units (marked vehicles) should be investigated and possibly instituted. There are a number of cities in this type of program now, and the savings on labor and parts more than offset the trade-in price on the vehicles.

"I believe this needs to be investigated further. Since Jan. 1, 1977, through Oct. 1, the cost for parts on the nine marked police vehicles was $7,634 and the labor cost was $6,532 for a total of $14,166. Tires are included in the parts costs.

"Our labor costs are running around $19 per hour at the present time.

"I realize the costs of employing our own mechanic and having a garage would be prohibitive, but possibly could also be investigated + with the thought that all vehicles with the exception of the Street Department equipment and the fire trucks and sewage treatment trucks could be taken care of by this mechanic. Also, the thought that a grant or Comprehensive Employment Towing Act employees could handle this.

"I am sure there are many other ways to cut costs. Possible these few suggestions will prompt more ideas."

The first course, scheduled Monday through Wednesday, Nov. 7-9, will include a brief review of Safe Drinking Water Act 93-523, focusing on water sources, including ground and surface water, well codes and regulations, intake structures and lift stations, disinfection, and record keeping.

Monday through Wednesday, Dec. 5-7, is the scheduled time for the second workshop. It will center around chemical handling, feeding and storage, safety, coagulation-flocculation-jar test procedures, sedimentation-clarifiers-sludge disposal, filters and filtration, and record keeping.

Softening, hardness reduction, lime soda and ion exchange, iron and manganese control, stability and corrosion control, applicable laboratory procedures and record keeping are the topics to be covered in the third workshop, Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 9-11.

The fourth workshop is set for Monday through Wednesday, Feb. 6-8. Fluoridation application and control, taste and odor testing and control, pumps and pumping characteristics, and instrumentation maintenance and control will be taught in this session.

The fifth workshop will focus on distribution and storage, booster station operation and control, service, installation, maintenance, hydrant testing and pressure recording, valve maintenance, meter installation, reading, repair, material and supply inventory, and record keeping Monday through Wednesday, March 6-8.

All the workshops will meet from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day. Students can receive 2.1 continuing education units upon successful completion of each course.

Tuition for each course is $58. Persons who pre-register and attend all five water supply workshops will be charged a reduced fee of $250 for the series.

Ways to save credit rating if can't pay

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser, Home Economics

Can't meet all your bills on time? Prompt action— before the bills are overdue—may save your credit rating.

Above all, contact lenders before a debt is delinquent and let them know why you are unable to pay your debts. Keep these suggestions in mind for protecting your credit rating and getting out of dept:

1. Notify your creditors at once. The creditor's main concern is getting his money. He is usually receptive to discussing ways to ease bill-paying problems, and an explanation from you may stop a creditor from listing you as a bad credit risk.

If more than one creditor is involved, try to meet with each one within one or two days to set up a plan for paying debts. This helps to prevent your promising more than you can pay to each creditor.

2. Know your present financial status before contacting a creditor. Know how much money you owe, and the amount which you can pay monthly on each bill.

3. Don't make any more credit purchases until you are out of debt and are no longer having difficulties paying current bills.

4. Get in writing all agreements for changing your normal payment schedule for any type of loan or credit. If you make a telephone contact, record the name of the person you spoke to and record the details of the conversation on a sheet of paper that you keep.

Above, all contact each lender before a debt is delinquent. Let him know why you are unable to pay your debts and how much you can pay each month.

NEED EYEGLASSES?
SEE
GRANITE CITY OPTICIANS, INC.
No. 12 NAMEOKI VILLAGE (BEHIND GASEN & KROGER)

. . . Where our method for dispensing the highest quality eyewear at the most economical prices is not just high volume and low overhead. We feel that high volume detracts from good personalized service. We also do not attempt to cut overhead by employing people of questionable ability. Our eyewear is of the finest quality, dispensed only by opticians who have received their certification from the National Academy of Opticianry.

The method we employ in giving you quality eyewear at truly bargain prices is very simple. As qualified opticians we are able to do much of the fabrication of an order for eyeglasses ourselves, instead of "jobbing it out" to a high volume lab. This greatly reduces our costs as well as yours. If we must fit you with what we fabricate, it only stands to reason that we are going to take the extra time that many times makes the difference between a high quality pair of eyeglasses and a low quality pair. Unfortunately, in a high volume lab, this is not always the case.

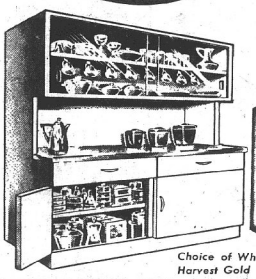

We take a great deal of pride in the quality of our work and the personalized service we give. There is no doubt in our minds that no one puts more effort toward giving you the best bargain in eyewear than at Granite City Opticians, Inc.!

Remember, we will fill prescriptions for eyewear from any licensed examiner, whether he be an optimologist or optimetrist. We can also make an exact copy of the lenses you are presently wearing and order your new glasses from that. We have one of the largest frame selections in the area at . . .

Beefalo IS BACK AGAIN!

(NOT BUFFALO)

BEEFALO IS A CROSS BETWEEN BUFFALO AND BEEF

Beefalo offers you a unique taste experience. Beefalo has the taste of delicious, full flavored beef. Nutritionally, beefalo ranks high in protein, but low in fat and cholesterol. While most U.S. Choice beef is 10 to 12% protein, beefalo is 18 to 20% protein. U.S. Choice beef contains about 25% fat, but beefalo (a friend of calorie counters) has only 5 to 8% fat.
Cook beefalo as you would prepare similar cuts of lean beef, but beefalo cooks about 25% faster than beef. Beefalo is processed under U.S. Gov't Inspection just like beef.
